Spalding's Athletic Library

A. G. SPALDING

Anticipating the present tendency of the American people toward a healthful method of living and enjoyment, Spalding's Athletic Library was established in 1892 for the purpose of encouraging athletics in every form, not only by publishing the official rules and records pertaining to the various pastimes, but also by instructing, until to-day Spalding's Athletic Library is unique in its own particular field and has been conceded the greatest educational series on athletic and physical training subjects that has ever been compiled.

The publication of a distinct series of books devoted to athletic sports and pastimes and designed to occupy the premier place in America in its class was an early idea of Mr. A. G. Spalding, who was one of the first in America to publish a handbook devoted to athletic sports, Spalding's Official Base Ball Guide being the initial number, which was followed at intervals with other handbooks on the sports prominent in the '70s.

Spalding's Athletic Library has had the advice and counsel of Mr. A. G. Spalding in all of its undertakings, and particularly in all books devoted to the national game. This applies especially to Spalding's Official Base Ball Guide and Spalding's Official Base Ball Record, both of which receive the personal attention of Mr. A. G. Spalding, owing to his early connection with the game as the leading pitcher of the champion Boston and Chicago teams of 1872-76. His interest does not stop, however, with matters pertaining to base ball; there is not a sport that Mr. Spalding does not make it his business to become familiar with, and that the Library will always maintain its premier place, with Mr. Spalding's able counsel at hand, goes without saying.

The entire series since the issue of the first number has been under the direct personal supervision of Mr. James E. Sullivan, President of the American Sports Publishing Company, and the total series of consecutive numbers reach an aggregate of considerably over three hundred, included in which are many "annuals," that really constitute the history of their particular sport in America year by year, back copies of which are even now eagerly sought for, constituting as they do the really first authentic records of events and official rules that have ever been consecutively compiled.

When Spalding's Athletic Library was founded, seventeen years ago, track and field athletics were practically unknown outside the larger colleges and a few athletic clubs in the leading cities, which gave occasional meets, when an entry list of 250 competitors was a subject of comment; golf was known only by a comparatively few persons; lawn tennis had some vogue and base ball was practically the only established field sport, and that in a professional way; basket ball had just been invented; athletics for the schoolboy—and schoolgirl—were almost unknown, and an advocate of class contests in athletics in the schools could not get a hearing. To-day we find the greatest body of athletes in the world is the Public Schools Athletic League of Greater New York, which has had an entry list at its annual games of over two thousand, and in whose "elementary series" in base ball last year 106 schools competed for the trophy emblematic of the championship.

While Spalding's Athletic Library cannot claim that the rapid growth of athletics in this country is due to it solely, the fact cannot be denied that the books have had a great deal to do with its encouragement, by printing the official rules and instructions for playing the various games at a nominal price, within the reach of everyone, with the sole object that its series might be complete and the one place where a person could look with absolute certainty for the particular book in which he might be interested.

In selecting the editors and writers for the various books, the leading authority in his particular line has been obtained, with the result that no collection of books on athletic subjects can compare with Spalding's Athletic Library for the prominence of the various authors and their ability to present their subjects in a thorough and practical manner.

A short sketch of a few of those who have edited some of the leading numbers of Spalding's Athletic Library is given herewith:

JAMES E. SULLIVAN

WALTER CAMP

For quarter of a century Mr. Walter Camp of Yale has occupied a leading position in college athletics. It is immaterial what organization is suggested for college athletics, or for the betterment of conditions, insofar as college athletics is concerned, Mr. Camp has always played an important part in its conferences, and the great interest in and high plane of college sport to-day, are undoubtedly due more to Mr. Camp than to any other individual. Mr. Camp has probably written more on college athletics than any other writer and the leading papers and magazines of America are always anxious to secure his expert opinion on foot ball, track and field athletics, base ball and rowing. Mr. Camp has grown up with Yale athletics and is a part of Yale's remarkable athletic system. While he has been designated as the "Father of Foot Ball," it is a well known fact that during his college career Mr. Camp was regarded as one of the best players that ever represented Yale on the base ball field, so when we hear of Walter Camp as a foot ball expert we must also remember his remarkable knowledge of the game of base ball, of which he is a great admirer. Mr. Camp has edited Spalding's Official Foot Ball Guide since it was first published, and also the Spalding Athletic Library book on How to Play Foot Ball. There is certainly no man in American college life better qualified to write for Spalding's Athletic Library than Mr. Camp.

WINTON E. BARKER,

President International Soccer Foot Ball Association of America. Under the auspices of this Association the Pilgrims of England toured the United States.

The Pilgrims' American Tour in 1909

BY EDWARD P. DUFFY, NEWARK, N. J.

If an American base ball team, picked from our best, went to England and was beaten by two nines over there, that would be a sensation in sports. In the soccer world, the games played by the Hibernians of Philadelphia, the Rovers of Fall River and the Scottish-Americans of Newark against the famous Pilgrims, the pick of England's high class amateurs, are in the same category that English base ball victories over Americans would be. The Hibernians not only defeated the Pilgrims, but did not allow the English exponents of the game to score. The Rovers played a tie game at one goal each the first time they met the Pilgrims and beat them on the second occasion, a few days later, 2—1. The Englishmen just escaped a shutout in this game, for their one goal came as the result of a penalty kick. The Scottish-Americans were beaten, 5 to 0, but the Newarkers' claim to fame is based on the fact that the Pilgrims asserted that the Jersey men played better soccer foot ball than any other eleven on the entire trip.

The English team came to this country on a mission to spread the gospel of soccer. They succeeded in their misdeavors, because here and there throughout the country new teams are springing up and more colleges are turning out more than ever, a large number, including the big universities, are supporting teams. The Haverford College team this year on a trip through the West, the first time a college team attempted such an undertaking. Independent teams are springing up in places never heard of before in connection with the game. The strongest proof of the hold the game is taking on the formation in many parts of the country of amateur leagues, made up of young players, who intend to remain amateurs in name and in fact. All this should elevate the game. It should gradually cause a break in the machinery of organizations that now control soccer, not any too wisely, nor progressively. The visit of the Pilgrims in large measure advanced the efforts of American lovers of the game to put soccer where it justly belongs, at the top of the list of fall and winter sports.

Several other American clubs made creditable showings against the Englishmen, especially the Blue Bells of St. Louis and the

ENGLAND TO ST. LOUIS, OCTOBER 12, 1909.

Hyde Park Blues of Chicago. In fact, Americans showed that the need of soccer missions has passed away and that the Englishmen had better prepare to beat America's best on their next trip, rather than bring over teams organized for purposes of instruction. Last year's trip was the third trip of English teams to this country. It was the most successful of the series, arousing far greater interest than any of the previous invasions. The first trip was made in 1905 by the Pilgrims and the second in 1906 by the Corinthians, who were also beaten by the Fall River Rovers and given a great battle by the Newark Football Club in that city. The crowds at the games played by the Pilgrims on last year's trip exceeded those of former years greatly, showing that soccer certainly had gained in popularity in three years.

Strict government of players, clubs and leagues by one big national body of men of standing should advance the game a great deal. Its only great drawback just now seems to be lack of effective national organization.

The tour of the Pilgrims, requiring an outlay of $12,000 to bring it to fruition, was conceived by Thomas W. Cahill, then of St. Louis, but now of Newark, who broached the subject to the wealthy Winton E. Barker of St. Louis, as patron of soccer in the West, and John H. Evans of Chicago. Messrs. Barker and Evans readily furnished the cash until the formation of the International Soccer Football Association of America, an organization of St. Louis and Chicago men, which financed and managed the tour. The officers were as follows:

President, Winton E. Barker, St. Louis; vice-president, John H. Evans, Chicago; secretary, Thos. W. Cahill, St. Louis; treasurer, Dr. T. L. Pepperling, St. Louis. Directors—Samuel Darwent, Chicago; Dr. H. W. Bewig, St. Louis; Henry Kulage, St. Louis; Peter R. Gunn, St. Louis.

A history of the Pilgrims' trip is given herewith:

ARRIVAL OF THE PILGRIMS.

The Pilgrims arrived in this country on the Mauretania of the Cunard line, September 30, 1909, in very fine physical shape, and after a rest of a single day were ushered into their first battle of the tour on American soil.

The fact that Captain Milnes stated that the team he was then leading was stronger than the one of four years before threw a little scare into the first team they met, the All-New Yorks, picked from the New York Amateur Association Football League, at Livingston, Staten Island.

The Pilgrims got away with this game by the score of 4 to 0, not a disgrace at all for the Americans, considering the speed of the League from which our men were drawn. Two days later the Englishmen went to Baltimore, where they had a picnic with the Sons of St. George eleven, trimming them by the big tally of 13 to 0. The men from the Monumental City never had even a look-in.

THOMAS W. CAHILL.
American Manager of the Pilgrims' Tour.

On October 7, the Britons gave the strong Mt. Washington team of the same city an even worse beating than they handed the Sons of St. George, the score being 14 to 0. The week was concluded in Baltimore by another big-score victory for the foreigners. This time they were winners over the crack All-Baltimore eleven. An 11 to 0 score was hung up for this game. The large scores for the games in that city told a story of the Englishmen's skill at the "short passing" game, and the Americans' inability to break it up and get their own "kick and run" game going.

The next day the Britons paid a visit to Newark, where they met and defeated the Scottish-Americans, 5 to 0. The "Scots" were a representative team, though not the best to my way of thinking hereabouts by any means. It was the first time that the "Scots" had been together that year and their best could not be expected of them. Any one of the local clubs, after playing two or three games, could have beaten the "Scots" that lined up that day by about the same 5 to 0 score. Big Full-back Bayley himself said that for the first twenty minutes of play the "Scots" gave them one of the worst tussles they ever had received. After that time, however, the lack of condition as against the superb shape of the visitors told, and the Englishmen scored five goals. I witnessed that game and was firmly convinced that a picked team from the vicinity of Newark with two weeks' practice at the "kick and run" game could play a game with the English that would at least be a toss up as to the winner.

As hard as they were pressed Sunday they went to Trenton on Tuesday and ran up against a set of tartars in the young men representing the capital of New Jersey. Fitchie did not play that day. C. D. Donaghy, who plays with the Caledonians in the Pennsylvania League, got past the backs and put the ball through the posts for the Trentonites, to the Pilgrims' great surprise. For the first time the Englishmen had been scored on since they arrived in the country. The Trenton people who watched this game were enthusiastic and, though the Britishers finally won out by a 2 to 1 score, they surely knew they were in a game and said so.

After this game the men from across the pond boarded a train and brought up in Cincinnati, Ohio, where they enjoyed a novel experience, that of playing foot ball at night by electric light on the ground of the Cincinnati Base Ball Club. While the men from "Cincy" were fair soccer foot ball players, the playing the Englishmen encountered in Newark and Trenton gave them a more wholesome respect for American soccer players, and they wasted no opportunities with the Ohioans, putting them to sleep by a 9 to 0 blow.

It was then on to St. Louis, the home of the men whose cash and energy had brought them here. St. Louis is supposed to have the best in the West in soccer, and everybody in that city said that the exponents of their favorite winter sport would set the mark as to showing against the Pilgrims. The first game was played Saturday, October 16, and resulted in a victory over the Blue Bells of 5 to 0 for the Pilgrims. It was a great foot ball game from the standpoint of the visitors, who outclassed the St. Louis men in every department. Mayor Kriesman of St. Louis, in the presence of 3,000 spectators, kicked off the ball for this game.

The second St. Louis team the Pilgrims met were the St. Teresa's, whom they defeated by a much larger score than was the case with the Blue Bells the day before.

The speed, accuracy and fine short passing of the Pilgrims simply baffled the St. Teresa's, and before the end of the game the Johnny Bulls had registered ten goals to the "Saints" single tally.

The Pilgrims laid around St. Louis until the following Wednesday morning, when they took a forty-two-mile jaunt to Gillespie, Ill., the home of many a former International English and Scotch professional soccerite, employed in the coal mines at that place. There is hot rivalry between this town and St. Louis over soccer and much interest is attached to the game.

This was a terrific draw battle, each side scoring a single goal. It was played in a downpour of rain, which made the field heavy with mud. In spite of the bad condition of the field the men played great foot ball. It was a case of science and skill on the part of the Britishers and science and strength on the part of the rugged miners, who had practiced a month for the fray. The Americans tried hard to beat the Pilgrims, and in the last ten minutes of play, had Bayley on his back most of the time, with Captain Milnes playing the most wonderful game of the trip, protecting his own and Bayley's territory brilliantly, thus preventing a decisive score by the Gillespie coal miners.

Two games were played in Chicago to wind up this week. The first contest took place on Saturday with the Hyde Park Blues.

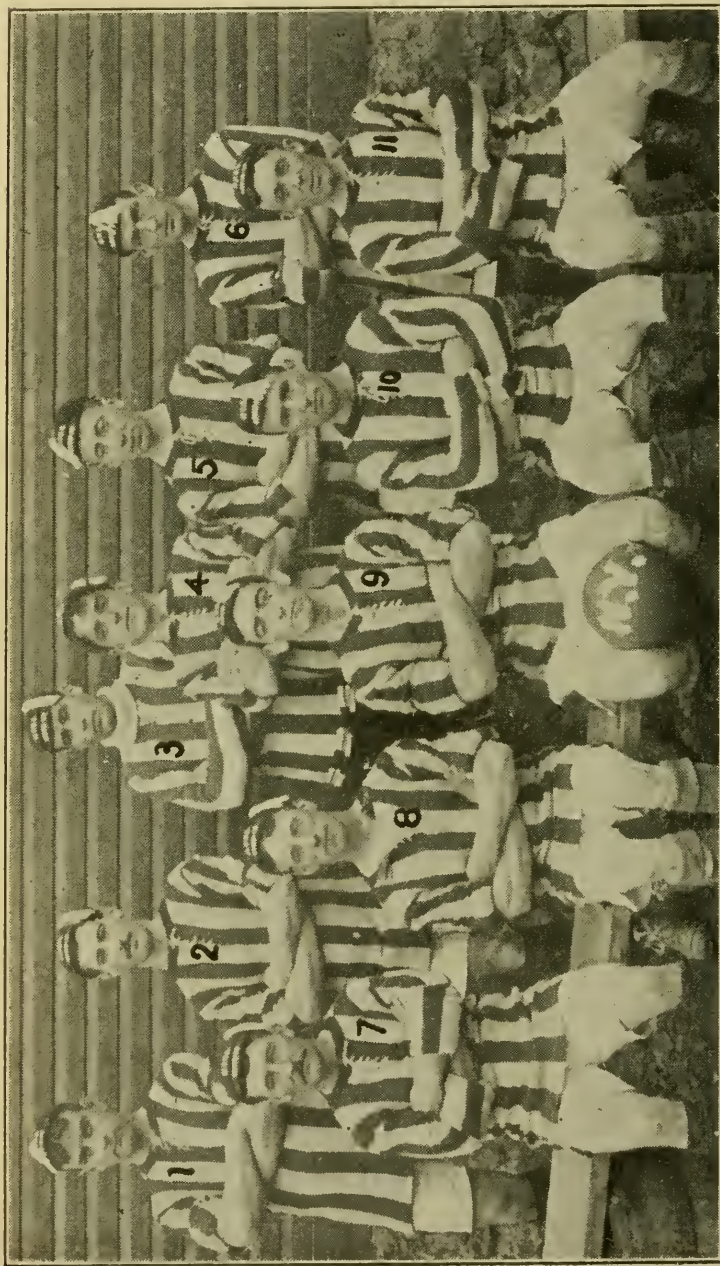

The foreigners registered an 8 to 2 victory against the Windy City boys. As if to prove its right to the name of Windy City, Chicago furnished the Pilgrims with one of its windiest and rainiest days on this occasion. In spite of that, however, the game was played in the mud, slush and rain with three of Hyde Park's best men missing. If the day had been nice and the full Hyde Park strength had been on the field, the Chicago boys would have very likely made a creditable showing. The work of Jack Evans for the Americans was easily the feature of this game, even considering the Englishmen.

The next day, however, was perfect. Between seven and eight thousand persons saw the game scheduled that day with the All-Chicago team, most of them from the team that had been defeated the day before by the Pilgrims. The Chicago men gave the visitors a great tussle, the English experts getting away with the honors by a 3 to 0 score. It was one of the most evenly contested games of the whole trip.

Two days later the Pilgrims pulled up at Coal City, Ill., a few hours' ride from Chicago, where they encountered another bunch of miners, who gave them a stiff argument. It was a draw game, neither side scoring. The Englishmen, however, should have won this game but for the incompetence of the referee there. After playing the two games of the last trip to St. Louis, the three games at Philadelphia and the two games at Fall River, the Pilgrims went to Brooklyn for the last two games of their tour. They were dead tired.

The first game of the last pair on the schedule was played Sunday, November 14, at Meyerrose Park, Brooklyn. It resulted in a tie game with the pick of the New York Amateur Football League. The score was 2 to 2. The bangings and the batterings that the husky and lively Americans had given the Pilgrims on the tour had the Englishmen in such condition that when they put on their full steam in this game their former force and power was gone. The final tussle, that brought the tour to a close, was played on the Crescent A. C. oval in Brooklyn, November 16. The soccer eleven representing the Crescents played the game and were easily beaten by the score of 6 to 1.

The defeat of which the Pilgrims can say nothing by way of specific excuse was that administered by the Fall River Rovers, Saturday, November 13. On the previous Tuesday the teams had played a remarkable 1—1 tie game, and the soccer world was watching with interest the outcome of this match. The Rovers scored two clean goals in the second game, while the Pilgrims accounted for their solitary tally on a penalty kick.

ALL-NEW YORK SOCCER FOOT BALL TEAM.

Played Against Pilgrims at Meyerrose Park, November 14, 1909. Tie Game.

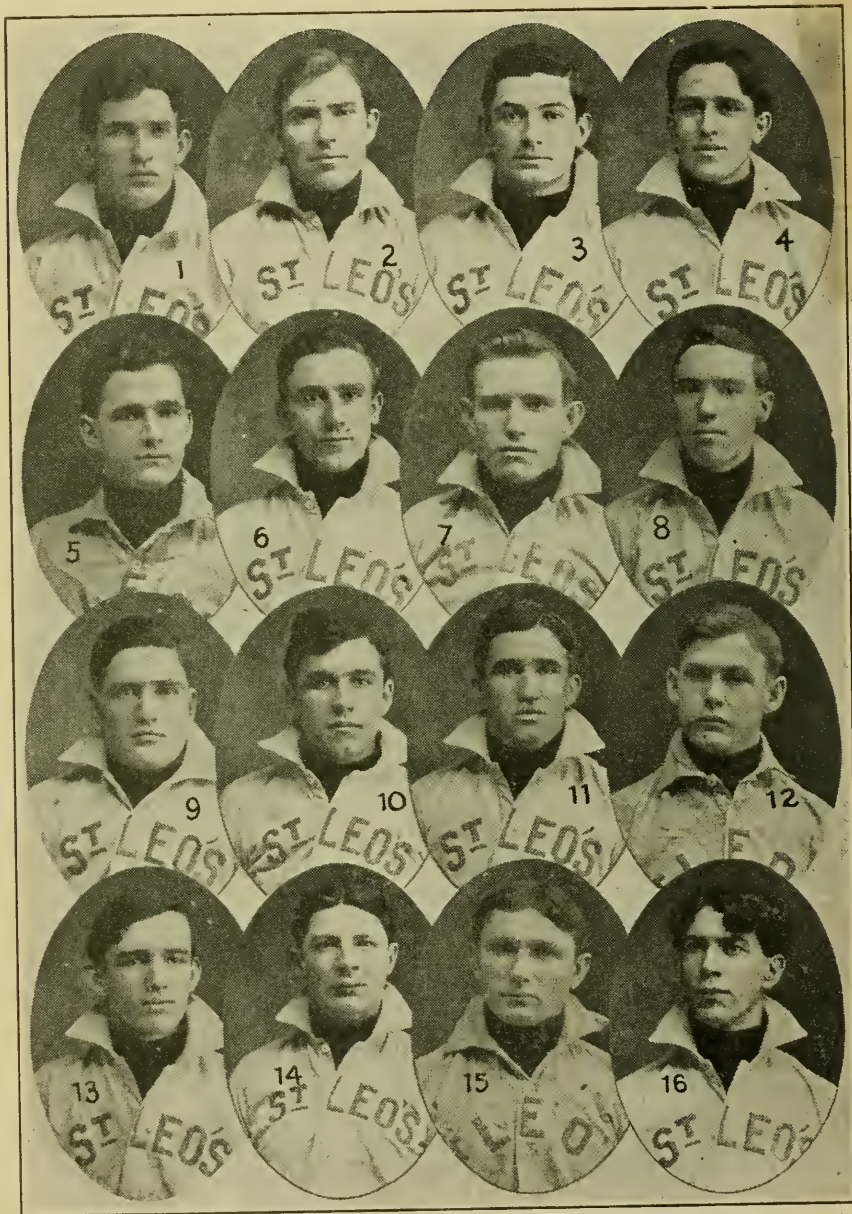

The victory of the Americans was altogether the more notable by the fact that they played the second half, with the exception of five minutes, without the services of their famous full-back, Thomas Bagley, who wrenched his ankle so badly in a play that he was carried off the field.

The Pilgrims realized that their reputation was at stake and played for all that was in them in the second half, the scoring having been done in the first. The "kick and run" and the "short passing" games were both invoked by the Englishmen in their mad efforts to register a victory, but the ten valiant Rovers stood their ground and battled off every attack made on their goal.

The Rovers in turn took a crack at the Pilgrim goal, and both goal-keepers had the work of their lives keeping the leather sphere from going through the posts on them. When the battle was over the players were nearly all "in" and both were glad the furious game was history. It was the hardest blow delivered to the Pilgrims on their trip.

Not to the Fall River Rovers alone does the honor of defeating the Pilgrims in this country fall. The Hibernians of Philadelphia administered a 1 to 0 beating to the Englishmen, November 4, two days after they had arrived in the City of Brotherly Love, following their famous encounter with the St. Leo's in St. Louis. The tussle with the Hibernians was a grand game of foot ball. It was the first time on the tour that the Pilgrims could not seem to get going, and the only time they failed to score a goal. The form the Hibernians displayed was a surprise to the spectators, and but for the remarkable work of Goal-keeper Lemoine and Full-back Fred Milnes of the Pilgrims, the score might have been anything up to 3-0. The first half ended with no score on either side.

With the strong wind at their backs in the second half, the Pilgrims, it was thought, would run away from the Hibernians. For five minutes after the whistle had blown in the latter half, that "dope" seemed to be right, but the foreigners slowed down after that and were put on the defense again. After ten minutes of hard work pressing the Pilgrims' goal, the Hibernians' forwards got away and dashed toward the English full-backs. Andy Brown outguessed the giant Bayley, who left his post to race him for the ball, with the result that the American got Milnes and Bayley in front of their own goal-keeper. The latter's view was thus obstructed. Brown switched the ball quickly to one side and shot it low and fast through the post, scoring the only goal of the game, which proved enough to defeat the Englishmen for the first time in this country.

It is true that the loss of the famous T. T. Fitchie was felt, but none of the honors accruing to the Hibernians must be taken away from them, for the "Hibs" certainly played a star defensive game when called upon. After that goal had been scored the Britishers tried, might and main, to win the game. Every time they got near the goal, however, the Americans would block so effectively that there wasn't a tally recorded against them that day. It was a glorious victory for the Americans. Kensington never saw such a celebration as occurred that night within the memory of the oldest inhabitant.

After the game Saturday with the All-Pennsylvania team, the Pilgrims set out for Fall River, where they encountered Larry Holden's famous Rovers. The tie game was played Tuesday, November 10. The first half furnished some great foot ball. Try as either team might, the Englishmen with their slow, short passing game, and the Rovers with the "kick and run," neither could score until within fifteen minutes of the call of time in the second half. At that point, Sim got a low, hard shot through the Rover goaltender. The Pilgrims were ahead. This aroused the Rovers to their best and within four minutes they had the score tied. Elliot headed in a corner kick from Sunderland. The Englishmen, with their defeat by the Hibernians the week before rising more vividly than ever before to them, changed their tactics. They threw their "short passing game" to the winds and indulged in the "kick and run" game in an endeavor to gain a victory, but without avail. The Rovers proved that they were soccer players of class.

Though the Rovers tied and defeated the Pilgrims and the Hibernians of Philadelphia also accounted for a victory over the invaders, the game played in Newark, N. J., with the Scottish-Americans was the best played of the tour, according to the Englishmen themselves. The Newarkers, though they had played together but once up to that time, made the Pilgrims hustle for all that was in them. Though the Britishers scored five goals to the Scots one, if the Englishmen had played the same way against most other teams on the tour, there might have been several twenty-to-nothing scores. It was certainly a nice game to look at and reflected great credit on the foot ball players of that vicinity. There were several teams of the caliber of the Scottish-Americans thereabouts. Some hold to the opinion that there was even a stronger team or possibly two than the Scots. So it wasn't certain that the Englishmen had met the best thereabouts. Just as this game was possibly the best played and one in which the Britishers were put to the test for their best foot ball—they say this themselves—the opposite was the case with the much-praised St. Leo team of St. Louis. The men had been practicing for this match for a month or more before the game. They were in such fine shape and so confident that they would win that offers were made to the Pilgrims to play for the entire gate receipts.

At the same time they told their friends that if they didn't trim the Pilgrims they would make at least a better showing against them than any other club in the country had done. Up to that time the St. Louis eleven was considered the best soccer foot ball aggregation in the West, and to Westerners, therefore, in the land. They had to succumb, however, to the foreigners, who triumphed over them, 12 to 1.

For the first twenty-five minutes the Americans played for all that was in them. They rushed the foreigners all over the field, but the latter, playing their best defensive game, kept the St. Leo's from scoring by dint of grand foot ball, backed by all their physical strength. The Americans then slowed up and in five minutes had shot their bolt. The Englishmen saw that and away they went after the Americans in great style. Before the half time whistle had blown they had tallied two goals. The second half started with a whirl, the English experts determined to make as much out of the game as possible. The St. Leo's were "in it" from a foot ball standpoint with the visitors, whose wonderful line of forwards went through everything the St. Leo's offered like money through a hole in your pocket. A total of twelve goals was hung up. As if to allow the Americans to take away the sting of a scoreless defeat, the Pilgrims allowed the St. Leo's to score a goal at the very end of the game.

It was no wonder that the Pilgrims piled up that score, because the St. Leo's threw all foot ball to the winds and played the "man," not the ball, in the latter half. The Englishmen, though battered, were able to withstand that rough game; to duck the men and score almost at will, making it appear that the much-praised American Westerners did not know anything about foot ball. As a matter of fact, they could play good foot ball if they wanted to adhere strictly to the tenets of soccer. That was where the trouble came in. They did not. After the game was over Captain Milnes said that the only thing in the game that resembled good soccer was the refereeing of Philip J. Kavanaugh, who handled the contest in clever style.

The day before this game the Pilgrims met the All-Western team, composed of the best in St. Louis. This contest was for the Sir Ernest Cochrane Challenge Cup, representing the soccer amateur championship of the world. The trophy was the property of the Pilgrims, who offered to play the best in the West with the cup as a prize.

The Pilgrims did not exert themselves very much in this game after they saw there was not any danger of defeat. They preferred to save themselves for the St. Leo game on the morrow, of which they had been warned. They came under the wire very easy winners, however, by the score of 4—0. Paul McSweeney refereed the game and was complimented by both elevens for his clever work.

At midnight, after the St. Leo game, the Pilgrims with their Cochrane Cup, boarded a train out of St. Louis, saying good-by to the West and started for Philadelphia. The men welcomed a sight of their berths, for the battle with the St. Leo's certainly brought each of the Pilgrims who played innumerable cuts, contusions and bruises.

When they arrived in Philadelphia on the morning of Tuesday, November 2, the Pilgrims were in anything but a condition to play foot ball, being stiff and sore from their 1,000-mile ride and their Sunday game with the St. Leo's. But the warriors hastened to a hotel, where they had a nap preparatory to playing a game with the pick of the Associated Cricket Clubs' League at Merion Cricket Club grounds at Haverford. The game was won by the Pilgrims, who scored three goals, while they kept the losers from shooting through their posts even once. The Britishers suffered a severe loss in this game. T. T. Fitchie, admittedly the best forward that had ever visited this country with the exception of Vivian J. Woodward, who was considered England's best in his time, fractured his ankle near the end of the first half of play. He was set to shoot a goal when he turned on the ankle and fell to the ground. He was, of course, out of the game for the balance of the tour, and sailed for home bearing his weight on crutches. It was a severe loss to the Englishmen.

On Saturday of that week, the Pilgrims met the All-Pennsylvania League eleven at Manheim on the Germantown Cricket Club's oval. This game was a walkover for the Englishmen, whose pride was still suffering from the defeat given them by the Hibernians the previous Thursday. They played lightning fast foot ball there, and could just as easily have made the score 15 to 0 as 9 to 0. After this game the eleven went to Fall River and Brooklyn, where they wound up their tour of the country.

History and Progress of the American Football Association

BY C. K. MURRAY.

Since the organization of the American Football Association, away back in 1884, the annual competition for the A. F. A. Challenge Cup has been recognized as the most important association foot ball tournament in the Eastern States.

Although there are numerous leagues controlling the game in the different communities where this sport is popular, particularly in Philadelphia and the "Down East" section, comprising Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut, the American Football Association since its inception has been recognized as the premier foot ball body. For many years Newark or East Newark has been the headquarters of the A. F. A., where its meetings are held, and in Newark and vicinity most of the memorable struggles for possession of the cup have taken place. It has always been the fondest ambition of every association foot ball club to win the American Cup, and the "final" is looked upon as the event of the season in the "soccer" foot ball world.

In 1884, the American Football Association was organized at a meeting held in the Clark Thread Company's hose house in Ogden Street. A subscription was opened and the sum of $500 was raised among prominent business men and admirers of the game in Newark, East Newark, New York and Paterson. The Clark Thread Company also contributed liberally to the fund. The following officers were elected: James Grant, president; Thomas B. Hood, vice-president; Robert L. Craig, treasurer; John Weston and Peter J. O'Toole, secretaries. It was decided to hold an annual competition and to offer a silver cup to be known as the American Football Association Challenge Cup, the winner of the final round each year to be presented with the cup by the Association and the name of the winning club to be suitably inscribed on the trophy.

Thirteen clubs entered the competition in 1884, as follows: O. N. T.'S, Almas, Tiffany Rovers, Thistles, Domestics and Riversides, all of Newark; Kearny Rangers of Kearny, N. J.; New York Football Club, New York Thistles, Paterson Football Club, Ansonia F. C., of Ansonia, Conn.; Fall River Rovers and East End Football Club of Fall River, Mass. The cup ties created great interest in the east and big crowds turned out to see the matches. The O. N. T. and New York clubs met in the final, the former eleven winning the cup. The winners had a strong eleven, the stars being Paddy Hughes, Harry Holden, L. Dockray, J. Howarth, Joe Swithenby, John Swithenby and Joe Swarbrick. The O. N. T.'s successfully defended their title as champions for three years, winning the cup again in 1885-86 and 1886-87.

After winning the cup in 1884 the O. N. T. eleven, under the management of William Clark, Jr., went on a tour through Canada, playing the leading clubs in Toronto, Dundas, Berlin and Galt. Their visit was very successful, winning nine games, losing one and drawing one. Their greatest achievement was against the Berlin club, the champions of Canada, this game ending in a draw, one goal each. The Americans were cordially received wherever they played and treated royally by the Canadian clubs.

The O. N. T. eleven on this occasion was as follows: Paddy Hughes, goal; A. Palliser and Harry Holden, backs; Joe Swithenby, J. Howarth and T. Smith, half-backs; Joe Swarbrick, J. McGurk, M. Devine, C. McCann and John Swithenby (captain), forwards.

The visit of the O. N. T.'s to Canada at this time aroused considerable interest in the game, and in the following year the first international match between the two countries was arranged.

An eleven representing the United States, selected by the American Football Association, met the pick of Canada at Galt in 1885, the game ending in a win for Canada by 3 goals to 2.

In 1886 the second international game with Canada was played on the old O. N. T. athletic grounds, East Newark, and resulted in a splendid victory for the Americans by 5 goals to 1. The winning team was composed of P. Hughes, goal; Harry Holden and W. Lines, backs; Joe Swithenby, R. MacDonald and J. Howarth, half-backs; W. Turner, E. Sargeant, J. Gray, H. Fisher and G. Curtin, forwards.

The visit of the Canadians to this city was a red letter day in the annals of association foot ball, and under the auspices of the American Football Association the game increased wonderfully in popularity. The "Down East" teams about this time began to make it interesting for the local clubs, Fall River and Pawtucket sending down strong elevens to compete for the cup.

In 1887-88 the Fall River Rovers were winners and took the cup to Fall River. It remained "Down East" until 1894-1895, being won by the Rovers again in 1888-89; by the Fall River Olympics in 1889-90; by the Fall River East Ends in 1890-91 and 1891-92; by the Pawtucket Free Wanderers of Pawtucket, R. I., in 1892-93, and by the Olympic Football Club of Fall River in 1893-94. It looked then as if the cup was destined to remain in Fall River, all the efforts of the New York and Newark clubs to regain it being unsuccessful.

In 1894-95, however, a strong eleven, wearing the colors of the Caledonia Football Club of East Newark, reached the final round of the competition, meeting the Free Wanderers of Pawtucket at Fall River. The "Callys" won a glorious victory and brought the dear "old mug" back to East Newark, where the visitors received a great ovation on their return. The members of this famous team were: Tommy Glynn, John McCance, Dick Swithenby, Frank MacDonald, Owen Dawson, R. Spencer, Mike McCauley, Sam Findlay, Harry McKinlay, Bobby Taylor and Jim Nagle.

In 1895-96 the True Blues of Paterson won the cup, defeating the Caledonians in the final. The cup remained in Paterson but one year, the Manx Club of Philadelphia defeating the True Blues in the final in 1896-97. The Arlington Athletic Association team of Arlington, N. J., won the cup in 1897-98.

Like most athletic associations, the A. F. A. has had its troublesome periods. The first serious break occurred at the beginning of the season of 1899, when the old association was forced to abandon its annual competition. Owing to strikes in the Fall River district, throwing thousands of men idle, the "Down East" clubs were forced to withdraw from the competition and foot ball in that section was practically killed. In the New York and New Jersey districts, professionalism crept into the game, and the A. F. A. being unable to cope with the predatory efforts of the prominent clubs to secure crack players, threw up the sponge. In consequence, there was no competition for the cup during the years 1899 to 1906, during which time the Arlington A. A. eleven held the trophy.

The missionary tours of the Pilgrim and Corinthian elevens to America stimulated interest in the game wonderfully and new clubs began to spring up in all sections. The adoption of the game by the leading universities and the forming of the Inter-collegiate Association Football League three years ago helped greatly to revive interest in the kicking game.

In February, 1906, a meeting was called by Hal Holden, a well known and popular association foot ball enthusiast of Kearny, to discuss the advisability of reorganizing the American Football Association. The meeting was attended by all the managers of clubs in this section and the reorganization of the Association was immediately effected. In recognition of his executive ability and untiring energy on behalf of the game, Mr. Holden was unanimously elected president, the other officers elected being: Peter Martin, vice-president; James Allan, Jr., financial secretary; Herbert Turner, corresponding secretary; Harry Craig, treasurer.

The following clubs entered the competition for the cup in 1906: True Blue, Paterson Rangers and Celtics of Paterson, West Hudsons, Kearny Stars, Riversides and Caledonians of Kearny, Bronx Rangers and Burns Club of New York, O. N. T. and Scottish-Americans of Newark. The cup was won by the West Hudsons after two great struggles with the True Blues of Paterson.

In 1907, the Clark A. A. eleven of East Newark, won the cup, defeating the Scottish-Americans of Newark in the final.

In 1908, the West Hudsons regained the cup, defeating the True Blues in the final. In 1909, the True Blues once more captured the trophy, defeating the Clark A. A. eleven in the final game.

of the organization. There were numerous surprises and two of the clubs which were looked upon at the beginning of the season as likely winners of the trophy, never reached the final round. Another proof of the uncertainty of cup tie foot ball.

Twenty-nine clubs, the record in point of numbers for the competition, faced the barrier in the fall of 1909. The first round resulted as follows:

Philadelphia Thistles defeated the Howard & Bullough F. C. of Pawtucket, R. I.; Corinthians of Philadelphia defeated Clan McDonald of Brooklyn; Scottish-Americans defeated Newark F. C.; Brooklyn F. C. defeated Critchley F. C.; Bronx United defeated Reliance F. C.; Jersey A. C. defeated Columbia F. C.; West Hudsons defeated Ansonia F. C.; Fall River Rovers defeated Hollywood Inn F. C. of Yonkers, N. Y.; Paterson Rangers defeated Clark A. A.; Celtic F. C. of Kearny defeated Arcadia Thistles of Brooklyn; True Blues defeated Clan MacDuff; Camden F. C. defeated the Camerons of New York; Tacony F. C., Legerwood F. C. and Wilberforce F. C. received byes.

The second round was productive of some good games. The Jersey City A. C. of Jersey City gained a sensational victory over the crack Hibernians of Philadelphia. After two drawn games the Philadelphia Thistles refused to travel to Fall River and forfeited to the Fall River Rovers. The second round resulted as follows:

Jersey A. C. defeated Hibernians of Philadelphia; Legerwood F. C. forfeited to West Hudsons; Philadelphia Thistles forfeited to Fall River Rovers; True Blues defeated Brooklyn F. C.; Wilberforce F. C. defeated Bronx United; Tacony F. C. defeated Celtic F. C.; Scottish-Americans defeated Camden F. C.; Paterson Rangers defeated Corinthians of Philadelphia.

The third round: Scottish-Americans defeated West Hudsons; Fall River Rovers defeated Jersey A. C.; True Blues defeated Wilberforce F. C.; Tacony F. C. defeated Paterson Rangers.

The surprise package of the third round was the defeat of the West Hudsons by the Scottish-Americans. The West Hudsons were considered to be the team of the year and were favorites to win the cup, but the Scots, particularly their goal-keeper, Esplin, played a great game, and won by 1 goal to 0.

Semi-final round: Scottish-Americans defeated True Blues; Tacony F. C. defeated Fall River Rovers.

It required two games to decide the Scots vs. True Blues game. The first was played at Paterson and resulted in a drawn game. On the re-play at Newark, the Scots won easily and for the first time in years the True Blues failed to qualify for the final round.

The meeting of the Fall River Rovers and the Tacony foot ball club at the Tacony base ball park, near Philadelphia, was a stirring battle. The Rovers at this stage of the competition looked like sure winners of the cup, but Tacony, which had been playing brilliantly all season, was too good for the New England players and won by 2 goals to 1.

The final brought together the Scottish-Americans of Newark, N. J., and the Tacony foot ball club of Philadelphia. The game was played on the West Hudson Athletic Field, Harrison, N. J., on Sunday, April 24. The game was originally fixed for April 17, but on account of rain was postponed one week. Seven thousand spectators saw the Taconys and Scots battle for possession of the cup, five hundred loyal enthusiasts accompanying the Tacony eleven from Philadelphia. As usual at all finals, excitement ran high.

Tacony early in the game showed itself to be the better team and were first to score in ten minutes. Tacony led at half time by one goal to nothing. Early in the second half the Scots gained a penalty kick and tied the score. The Scots had numerous chances to add to their score, but the miserable work of their forward line spoiled all their efforts. Near the end the Tacony eleven gained a penalty kick, from which they scored the winning goal, the final result being Tacony 2 goals, Scottish-Americans 1.

The winning of the American cup by the Tacony eleven was the culmination of a brilliant season of foot ball by the Quaker eleven. Besides lifting the big cup, the Taconys won the championship of the Pennsylvania State League, going through the series without a single defeat. It cannot be denied that Tacony was the "team of the year."

Any properly constituted foot ball club playing the game according to the laws of the Association, is eligible to membership in the A. F. A.

Any club wishing to enter the cup competition must file its application with the secretary of the Association not later than September 10 of each year. The A. F. A. headquarters are at the Continental Hotel, Newark, N. J., where all meetings are held.

The present officers of the A. F. A. are as follows: Honorary Presidents—Holden Holden of Kearny, Aaron Jones of Newark, and Winton E. What may be the forerunner of a bigger order of things was the organization of the Eastern League during the past season. At a meeting held at the Continental Hotel, Newark, N. J., in September, 1909, delegates were present (on invitation) from the strongest soccer centers of the East. The main idea of the meeting was to take one or two of the best teams from the various cities in which soccer was popular and form a league of about six clubs and play home-and-home games, mostly at holiday time. In this way it was considered that good attractions would be furnished and would have a great effect on the furtherance of the game. However, owing to the bad weather, it was found impossible to play off all of the games, but those that were played attracted a large number of spectators, and there is no doubt that next season will be a more prosperous one than the past. The following teams were selected to form the personnel of the league: The Hibernians and Thistles, of Philadelphia; Newark F. C., of Newark, N. J.; West Hudsons, of Harrison, N. J.; Howard and Bullough, of Pawtucket, R. I., and the Fall River Rovers, of Fall River, Mass.

Association Foot Ball in New York

BY JAMES H. HENDERSON.

The United States is witnessing, though without as yet giving it the support it deserves as a winter sport, a phenomenal rise to favor of Association, or Soccer, foot ball. On looking over the season of 1909-10 in New York and vicinity, it will be found to have been the most successful in the history of the game.

One of the principal reasons for the success of soccer in the metropolis has been the spirit which the officials of the different associations and leagues have infused in the games. The amateur still dominates in the councils of the soccer organizations of New York State. In neighboring States it is evident that the question of finance has become one of much more pressing moment than to foster the game. However, so long as the Amateur Football Association, which is the parent body in this country, takes a firm stand in dealing with refractory professionals and clubs, the game will gradually grow in favor and eventually become one of the leading winter pastimes.

Since the organization of the American Football Association in 1884, New York has been represented by one or more clubs, and although the much coveted trophy has never found a resting place in the greater city, the teams have made a remarkable showing in the competition, considering that the clubs which comprise the American Football Association are undoubtedly the strongest in the Eastern States.

The season of 1910-11 gives promise of being even more successful than former years. Eighteen clubs in the New York State League forecasts a busy time for those clubs, taking into consideration that the majority of the clubs will be entered in the American Football Association challenge cup series.

The New York State League is divided into two divisions. The first is comprised of the following clubs: Clan Macdonald F. C., Hollywood F. C., Critchley F. C., Arcadia F. C., Cameron F. C., Bronx United F. C., Astoria F. C., Columbia F. C. The second division: Highbridge F. C., McKenzie F. C., Clan McDuff F. C., Ceylon Bruce F. C., Hungarian F. C., Brooklyn Celtic F. C., Donegal F. C., Mount Vernon F. C.

Silver cups will be awarded the successful clubs in each league, gold medals to the winners and silver medals to the runners-up. Added interest will be taken in the competition owing to the fact that the League decided that the two lowest clubs in the first division should be relegated to the second division next season, and the two leading clubs in the second division advanced to the first division.

That flourishing organization, the New York State Amateur Association, had a most successful season, with the prospect of even greater achievements the coming year. Both a Saturday and Sunday schedule were arranged, which provided good sport for thirteen clubs during the winter.

The success which has crowned the introduction of soccer in high schools, public schools and private schools is the surest guarantee for the future of the game. The interest taken by the schoolboys of Greater New York in the competitions under the auspices of the Public Schools Athletic League, shows that the young athletes have taken kindly to the sport. Each year has added to the enthusiasm in the competition for possession of the handsome trophy presented by William H. Maxwell to the high schools of Greater New York.

Even in the radical changes in the rules of the great American game, traces of soccer can be seen, which have been brought about by the numerous fatalities which occurred on the gridiron during the past two or three seasons. In fact, at a meeting of the Intercollegiate Athletic League, held last spring, several of our largest educational institutions demanded that the American foot ball game be abandoned and soccer substituted. With all the high and public schools in the principal cities throughout the country actively engaged in the game, its success is assured.

In all probability the popularity of soccer in New York and vicinity during the season of 1910-11 will be even greater than in the past.

Association Foot Ball in Philadelphia

BY BENJAMIN GROVE,

Secretary of the Foot Ball Association of Pennsylvania.

The two big achievements of the local elevens—Tacony winning the American Cup, and the Hibernians being the first team to beat the Pilgrims in America, added to the growing popularity of association foot ball in Philadelphia.

The three local games played with the Pilgrims attracted much larger crowds than in 1905, when the Pilgrims paid their first visit to America, or in 1906, when the Corinthians toured the country. That the game in Philadelphia has improved in quality was testified to by F. H. Milnes, who captained the Pilgrims in 1905 and also in 1909. The Pilgrims opened their Philadelphia tour of 1909 against a picked team from the Associated Cricket Club's Soccer League, and although ten minutes after the commencement of the game the tourists, by reason of injury, lost the services of T. T. Fitchie, they had no difficulty in winning the game, and only the brilliant work of Murphey, the Cricketers' goal keeper, kept the score from being greater than it was. In the second game with the Hibernians the tourists sustained their first defeat of the tour, the local team gaining a rather remarkable victory by the narrow margin of one goal to none. It cannot be said that the tourists were at their best, but considering the caliber of the team, it came as a welcome surprise to the partisans of the Hibernians, who, although expecting their favorites to put up a good game against the Pilgrims, it is safe to assume that the chance of a victory was considered to be rather remote.

If the Pilgrims underestimated the strength of their opponents in the second game, they did not fall into the same error with the All-Philadelphia team. Changes were made in the tourist line-up as follows: H. J. Eastwood was introduced at outside left in place of J. B. Sim, and G. R. Hoare at center forward in place of A. K. Campbell, who was placed at right half-back.

It was hard to believe that only three changes had been made, for the team as a whole showed an improvement that was truly remarkable.

Although the Pilgrims held a decided advantage in the first half, their superiority was not overwhelming. However, in the second half they scored goal after goal with monotonous regularity. Although having played a plucky game, the Philadelphians gave a disappointing display, as most picked teams usually do.

I saw the Hibernian-Pilgrim game in the international series, and the goal scored by "Andy" Brown which beat the Pilgrims was one of the finest I have ever seen. Lamoine, the Pilgrim goal keeper, fell the full length of the goal in an attempt to save it, but his effort was futile, as the ball passed into the far corner of the net. "Al" Cooper at right full-back—who, by the way, is a native son—played a splendid game, being cool at all times, and was ably assisted by his partner, "Pete" Wilson, who, although having filled the left full-back position for a number of years, is still a most reliable player. McCormack at center half was a tower of strength to the "Hibs" team, and his side partners, Grove and Dauks, were well placed. Of the forward line, of course "Andy" Brown was the shining light on the extreme left, although Taylor, his inside partner, placed some splendid passes. Geordie Brown, at center forward, was a hustler, and Blaney and Gallagher, on the right wing, played a clever game. The Hibernian club have been a great factor in the development of the game in this city, and have five times won the championship in the league competition of the Foot Ball Association of Pennsylvania.

The "Hibs" had received an invitation to tour the West and play a series of games in Chicago and St. Louis at Christmas, but owing to the bad weather the trip had to be abandoned.

The success of the Hibernians against the Pilgrims, and the fact that the Tacony club won the American Cup, have been the best features of the local soccer season. The Tacony team the past season have established a local record which has not been duplicated in the history of the game in Philadelphia—that of winning the American Cup and the championship in the league of the Foot Ball Association of Pennsylvania. Tacony went through the season without a defeat, and the two drawn games in the Pennsylvania league with the “Hibs” and Trenton easily called for a win for Tacony in both instances. I should attribute much of their success to the untiring efforts of their manager, “Aleck” Campbell, and to the practical advice rendered to the club by “Tommy” Hyslop. A short sketch of the team follows:

George Cairns, goal keeper; one of the utility men, has occupied almost every position on the team, always with a display of intelligence. He came into the team as goal keeper after Clarke left for England. He makes good use of his height and reach, and takes all kinds of shots with equal facility.

John Small, right full-back; considered to be the coming full-back; a great tackler, also a marvel of consistency.

John Allen, left full-back; daring to a fault, comes up smiling and generally with the ball. Never was known to do an unkind action to an opponent. A favorite with players and officials because of an affectionate nature which lies behind a shy exterior.

Percy Potts, right half-back; full of nervous energy, useful with his head, can shoot like a forward and tackles well.

Robert Morrison, center half-back, played as a junior international in Scotland before coming to America the beginning of the past season; is considered to be the finest center-half in Philadelphia; exemplary in conduct and always in first-class trim.

Hector McDonald, left half-back, captain of the team and well worthy his leadership. Sunny temperament and a gentleman both on and off the field. As a left half he has no equal.

John Plant, outside right; a pretty dribbler, very fast and quick at taking any sort of chance near goal.

George Kemp, inside right, is built on strong, gritty lines, useful without being brilliant, shoots strong and straight.

Charles Dawson, center forward; very dashing, goes through the defense and shoots a hard ball, going for all the chances.

Thomas Hyslop, inside left; a player of great experience, having played International Scotland against England; assisted Sunderland and Stoke in the First Division of the English League; played for Glasgow Rangers in the Scottish League and also in South African Cup Ties; has a great shot and has been known to injure goal keepers with his terrific drives. (The writer can testify to this, having refereed in one match in which the goal keeper received a broken thumb in attempting to stop one of Hyslop's low drives.)

John Smith, outside left, lithe and sinewy; picks up the mechanical passes of his partner, and centers well.

The number of American boys who are playing soccer is increasing rapidly, and, intending to eliminate injury among school children resulting from Rugby foot ball, William A. Stecher, director of physical training, will introduce association foot ball in all the public schools of Philadelphia.

"The elimination of Rugby foot ball and the introduction of the soccer style of the game," said Mr. Stecher, in explanation of his attitude, "will undoubtedly prove of the greatest benefit to the school children. In the soccer game every muscle of the body is brought into play, and the beneficial effect on the system is probably greater than is secured in any other single sport. In the soccer game is combined all the interest and activity of foot-ball without the liability of injury, as in the Rugby game."

At the annual general meeting of the Public Schools Athletic League of Philadelphia the organization expressed itself as being in accord with Mr. Stecher's plans in his preference for association foot ball, and further approval of his attitude is evinced in the action of the Fairmount Park Commission, who will permit the game on the great pleasure ground, while the Playgrounds Association will equip the public playgrounds for school children to indulge in association foot ball.

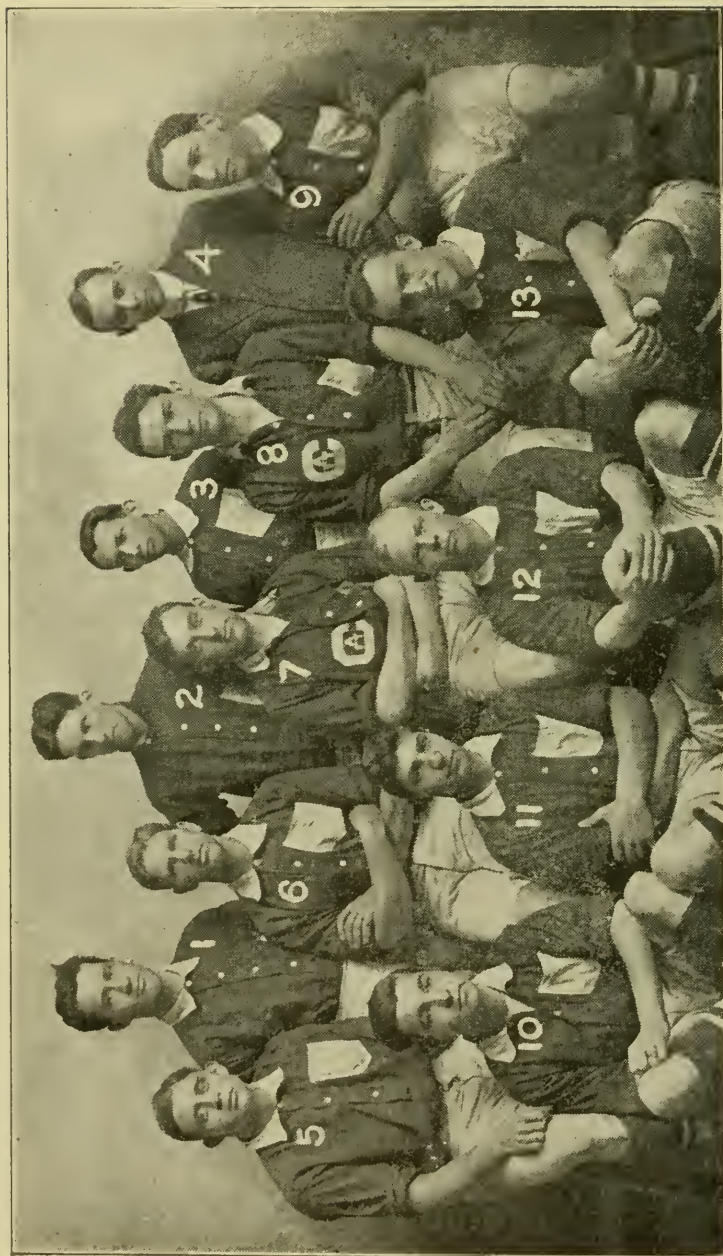

The greatest difficulty which was encountered during the past season was the heavy snowstorms which occurred after Christmas, although up to that time the weather had been unprecedentedly fine. However, with few exceptions, the local league schedules and cup competitions were played off.

With the exception of the First Division of the Cricket Club League, changes took place in the personnel of each of the combinations.

In the Second Divisions of the Cricket Club League, the P. R. R. Y. M. C. A. Field Club and the Delaware County Field Club withdrew from the competition. The Foot Ball Association of Pennsylvania admitted the Trenton Caledonians and the Albion Field Club. The British dropped out through the club having become defunct. The Robert Emmett Club applied and were granted permission to change the name of the club to that of the Camden A. C.

The Amateur League dropped Vesper and Wissahickon and admitted Fairhill and Granite.

The Sons of St. George League admitted Edward VII, John Bright and Robin Hood and dropped Beaconsfield.

tained it all through, and well they deserved to, for it is doubtful whether a finer team has ever been entered into the competition since its inception.

The Hibernians, last year's champions, were the runners-up in the league competition, and pressed Tacony close for first honors, but the defeat administered by Tacony and Trenton extinguished all chances of the "Hibs" again carrying off the championship.

Thistle started out with a strong aggregation of players and their chances looked good, but although having a fair amount of success in the early part of the season, toward the close the team took an unaccountable slump.

The Corinthians were not the consistent team they were in previous years, and although they won the majority of games played in the second half of the season, their efforts came too late to be of any value in the race for the championship.

Trenton failed to come up to expectations, which was probably owing to their not being able to place the same team on the field any two games in succession, and the fact that they beat the Hibernians and played a drawn game with Tacony, goes a long way to prove that had they been able to play the same team regularly, their chances of being near the top of the league table would have been good.

The changing of the name of the Robert Emmett to that of the Camden A. C. apparently had no great effect on the playing of the team, as the standing of the club in the league table will show.

Albion re-entered the league competition again after being absentees for two seasons, but proved to be but a shadow of their former team, and were unable to even gain a solitary victory.

The outstanding feature of the first division of the Cricket Club League was the phenomenal success of the Belmont team. They went through the season without a defeat, and without having a goal scored against them. This is a record that has not been duplicated in the history of the league. The success of Merion 2d in the second division of the Cricket Club League was richly deserved, as they were a long way the best and most consistent team in the league.

Since Christmas Fairhill's progress in the Amateur League was quite phenomenal, and if the team had played near as well in the beginning of the season, it is doubtful if anything could have prevented them from creating a record in the league. Considering this was the team's first season, their success against such veteran teams as Cardington, Boys' Club and Tennyson is something to be taken notice of.

Quite a number of interesting games were played in the St. George League, although Centennial and Tennyson shared the honors of the league in the matter of the first and second medals. Victoria, last year's champions, and Peabody threatened danger right up to the finish. Robin Hood and Edward VII. did fairly well for their first season in the league, but John Bright, the other new leaguer, failed to obtain a single point in any one of the fourteen games played.

The outstanding feature in the Philadelphia and Suburban League was the defeat of Victor by Smith A.F.C. on March 19th, by the score of 4 goals to 3. It was decidedly hard luck on Victor to sustain their only defeat in the league so late in the season, but they have no cause to feel in the least ashamed with their record. Smith A.F.C. had a wonderfully successful time in the last two months of the season, and if they did not carry off the championship they were a good second to Victor.

Soccer Foot Ball in Chicago

BY JACK EVANS, CHICAGO.

Never in its history has soccer foot ball reached the extent of popularity it has done in the past season in Chicago and vicinity. The visit of the famous English Pilgrim team last October was the immediate cause of the unusual enthusiasm which has prevailed throughout the playing season.

This visit, together with the energetic efforts of the officials of the Association Foot Ball League of Chicago, aided by the press, has served to place soccer foot ball in the front rank of outdoor sports in America. The American public have at last become aware of the great qualities and possibilities of the game and are taking great interest in the various competitions.

The largest crowd that ever witnessed a soccer foot ball game in Chicago was present when the Pilgrims played the "All-Chicago" team Sunday, October 24, 1909, at Anson's Base Ball Park. The Chicagoans were not so fortunate as on the previous visit of the Englishmen (when they won by 2 goals to 1), and were defeated after a great game by the score of 3 to 0. That the visit of the much-traveled Pilgrim team improved their style of play, and that the local players obtained many pointers in the game is evidenced by the superior brand of foot ball displayed during the season just closed.

The greatest boost the game has received, however, is the approval of the game by the University of Chicago and the other State colleges of the Middle West. Now that the universities and the high schools have taken up the sport, soccer will not have to rely on the British residents of the country for its support, but will also receive the support of the Americans, both from a player's and spectator's standpoint.

The season commenced here with the Association Foot Ball League of Chicago, the premier organization. Eight teams were entered in the competition; the Hyde Park Club entering two teams—the Hyde Park Blues and Hyde Park Albions—Woodlawns, Hibernians, Campbell Rovers, McDuffs, Harvey and Pullman.

The Hibernians, newcomers in the league, proved the winners, only losing six points throughout the season. They played slashing foot ball, and their aggressive playing fairly entitled them to their position. Not until they had cinched the championship did they lose a game. The Hyde Park Albions, tail-enders, and the Woodlawns were the only teams to lower their colors in the competition. As a result they now hold the Spalding Cup (which was donated by A. G. Spalding & Bros.), emblematic of the championship of the Association Foot Ball League of Chicago.

Following is the standing of the Association Football League of Chicago:

	Played.	Won.	Lost.	Drawn.	Points.
Hibernians	14	10	2	2	22
Pullman	14	8	4	2	18
Hyde Park Blues.....	14	6	5	3	15

Next to the visit of the Pilgrims, chief interest was manifested in the second annual contest for the Peel Cup, a handsome trophy, put up for competition by Mr. P. J. Peel, of Chicago, for the purpose of establishing a fund to aid players injured in soccer foot ball contests and emblematic of the championship of Missouri, Illinois, Wisconsin and the Middle West, and which is competed for annually. This competition is open to all.

All the teams in Chicago were entered in the competition, the winner of which is determined by a process of elimination. The holders of the cup, season 1908-1909, the Campbell Rovers, were defeated early in the competition, and the semi-final ties found the Hibernians, Pullman, Hyde Park Blues and Coal City, Ill., teams still in the running. The draw brought the Hyde Park Blues and Pullman and Coal City and Hibernians together on the grounds of the first named clubs. Some brilliant foot ball was witnessed and the Hyde Park Blues and Coal City entered into the final by virtue of their victories.

The final tie was played on the grounds of the Hyde Park Blues at Fifty-second Street and Cottage Grove Avenue, Sunday, May 22, before the largest and most enthusiastic crowd of the season, with the exception of the game with the Pilgrims of England, previously mentioned in this article. After a brilliantly contested game, the Hyde Park Blues were returned winners by the score of 3 to 0, thereby securing possession of

The record of the winners in the competition is one to be proud of, as they vanquished all their opponents by playing superior foot ball, as their record of 22 goals to 5 for the competition proves. By winning from Coal City the Blues acquired the title of champions of Illinois, Missouri, Wisconsin and the Middle West.

Owing to the severe weather which prevailed during the holiday season, the usual inter-city games did not take place, and thus no comparison can be drawn on the respective merits of Chicago's and other western city teams. The pick of St. Louis were defeated by the Pilgrims of England by 13 goals to 1, while the Chicagos were beaten 3 to 0. This tends to show that Chicago is the superior of St. Louis in soccer, its chief western rival, and judging from the various teams in the country which met the Pilgrims on their tour, which games the writer was fortunate enough to attend, Chicago foot ball compares very favorably with any shown in the country.

It is a pity that two teams of the caliber of the Pilgrims could not tour the various cities and play games against each other for the benefit of the native-born players and the American public, so that they could see how the game should be played and is played by teams who thoroughly understand it. This procedure would be a great method of enlightening the college players and supporters in the science of soccer foot ball.

Other minor league competitions in Chicago show the game to be rapidly gaining ground, and the games played between the high schools are good signs of encouragement for the sport.

The Englewood High School seemed to hold the upper hand in these circles, and a combined team of Englewood and Oak Park High Schools succeeded in lowering the colors of the University of Chicago soccer team, who have upwards of 200 students taking active interest in the game.

Too much praise cannot be given to the officials of the Association Foot Ball League of Chicago for the stringent methods used to eliminate roughness and rowdyism from the games during the past season, and the standard of foot ball has improved greatly under their stern rule. One of the best signs of the same is the complete control the referees have over the players during the games, and the improvement is bound to continue as long as this is the case.

The outlook for the coming year is of the brightest. The A. F. L. of C. is endeavoring to get all the competitions under one head, thereby securing control of all foot ball in Chicago and vicinity and putting the game on a firm basis with the intention of furthering inter-city contests, which will do more for the advancement of the game than any other competitions. Visits from English teams are also probable, and the season of 1910-1911 should produce still better results than the one just closed.

Soccer Foot Ball in St. Louis

BY DAVID F. BARRETT.

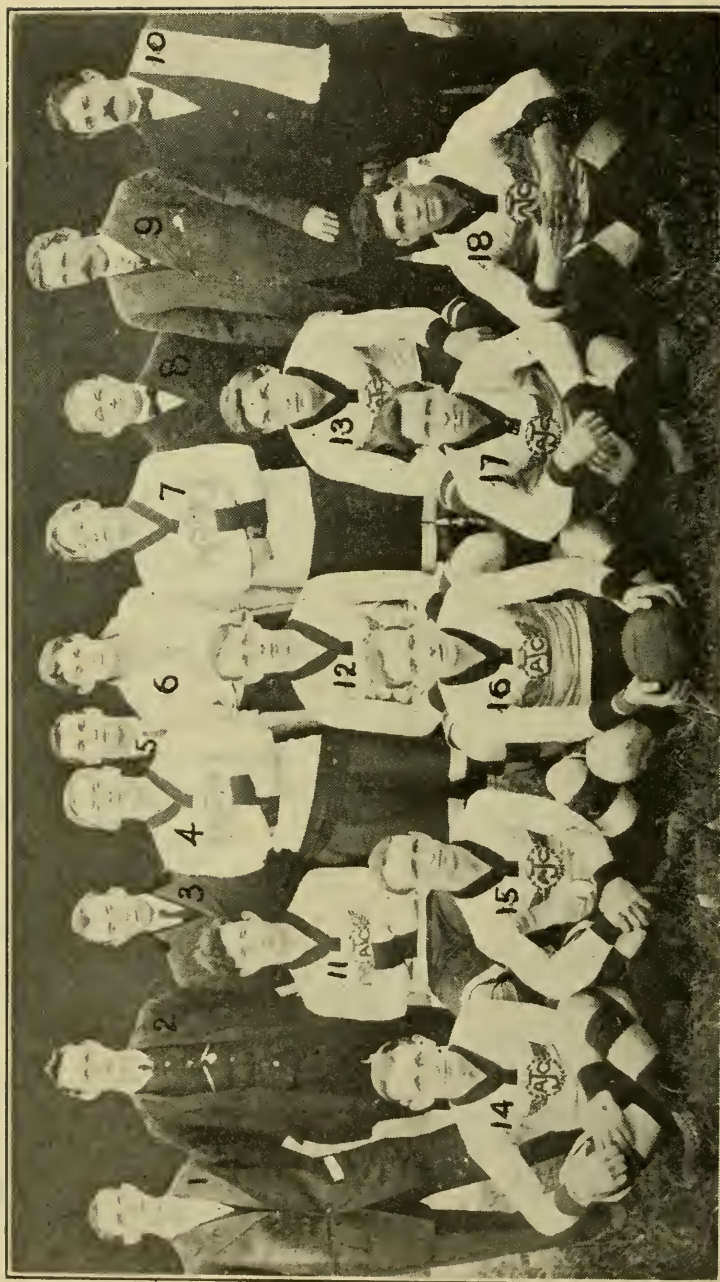

Soccer made rapid strides in popularity in St. Louis during the past season, despite the adverse weather conditions. Each Sunday saw greater crowds out at the different games, and nothing short of a genuine Northwester could keep the majority of the followers of the game away.

St. Louis lived up to its reputation of being one of the best soccer cities in the country by supporting over a dozen leagues. These were scattered throughout the length and breadth of the town and were well supported. In addition to this, it was a party of St. Louis men who made the tour of the Pilgrims possible. Mr. Winton E. Barker, Henry Kulage, Dr. T. L. Pepperling, Dr. H. W. Bewig and Tommy Cahill being the lads to turn the trick.

The season started on October 10 with a game between the St. Teresa team of the St. Louis league and the C. B. C. team of the amateur league. The Saints won, 7 goals to 2. The following Saturday the Pilgrims played the Blue Bells and beat them, 5 to 0. Sunday they beat St. Teresas 10 to 1. The next Saturday they played the All-Westerners and beat them 4 to 0, and on Sunday they trimmed St. Leos, 12 to 1.

The Pilgrim games served to advance the game in popular favor immensely, and on the following Sunday, when the Blue Bells and St. Teresas met, they played to a crowd that packed Athletic Park. The Blue Bells won, 1 to 0. On the following Sunday the St. Louis and other leagues opened. There was over a dozen in the field. They were: St. Louis Soccer, St. Louis Association Football, Amateur, Junior, Junior Amateur, City, Carondelet, Waterworks, West End, Parochial, Sodality and Hibernians. They all did great for a while, but then the severe weather of winter set in and played havoc with the schedules. The majority of the leagues held together, and while they did not finish all their games, they played the majority of them.

The prospects for the coming season are of the brightest. All the leagues that were in the field last season will be in the field again this year, and in addition to this there will be one or two others. The game progressed wonderfully the past season. The play was much faster and cleaner than the year before. The Pilgrim's taught the players things about the game that they took advantage of. The records of the leagues are set forth here in separate stories.

ST. LEOS, CHAMPIONS OF THE WESTERN STATES.

The season of 1909-10 was one continual round of victories for that sterling soccer eleven, the St. Leos of St. Louis, acknowledged the champions of the entire West by the best judges of soccer in the country. During the year the team received but two set-backs. The first of these occurred on October 24 when they met the mighty Pilgrims of England and were beaten, 12 to 1. This one-sided beating looks bad on the face of it, but it must be said in St. Leos' favor that they were in no condition whatever to play the Pilgrims. When the game was proposed the St. Leos and the promoters could not reach an agreement as to what the Saints were to get. The result was that the game was not booked until a few days before the game was played. The local lads had little or no time to train, and though they did put up a stubborn game the first half and held the Pilgrims to a 2 to 0 score, lack of condition told in the last half, and they were run all over. Gordon Hoare, of the Pilgrims, later wrote a story, in which he claimed the St. Leos were the poorest team in the country. This was written, as was later acknowledged, wholly through prejudice. The financial trouble over the game led to hard feelings, and Hoare let them run away with him when he wrote his story. St. Leos later proved the falsity of this statement by beating St. Teresas, Blue Bells and Coal City, all of whom played better games against the Pilgrims, the last named tying them.

St. Leos have been in the field for eight years now, and have won as many flags. They opened up in 1902-03 in the Junior League and won the flag. The next season found them in the Amateur League at C. B. C., and they again won the flag; 1904-05 found them winning the Sunday afternoon flag at Forest Park; the next year they won the Sodality flag at Empire Park; 1906-07 they won the St. Louis Association Football flag, and the following year also; 1908-09 and 1909-10 they won the St. Louis Soccer League flag. They have also won the championship of St. Louis four years running, and in addition have beaten every team in the Central West for the past three years.

St. Leos have a style of foot ball all their own. Possessed of a fast set of forwards, the team plays as fast and aggressive a game as possible. It never lets up in its speed during the entire game. It rushes its opponents off their feet, and by its ability to stand the pace, has won more than one game in the past in the last five minutes of play. The team's record for the past season was as follows: October 24, Pilgrims, 12; St. Leos, 1; Novem-

Record, 9 won, 2 lost and 8 tied. Goals scored, 34, and scored on, 29.

This record is wonderful in view of the fact that the team had to battle against the hardest kind of luck. On the opening day of the season Brannigan, its star center forward, had a wrist broken; Abstein, its star full-back, retired from the game; Ammons, inside left, was removed by the railroad he was working for to another city, and each and every one of the other players were more or less injured at various times. The team was forced to play more than one game with four and five substitute players on the field, but owing to the foresight and hustling of Manager Klostermann, the team was never beaten in league competition until the last game of the season, and then on a penalty kick in the last minute of play.

It has never been the policy of Klostermann to carry dead ones. The players of his team are all hustlers, and he will do anything for them. He looks after their interest off the field, and he wants them to look for his on it. The players of the team are as follows:

William Klostermann, manager. Klostermann organized the team in 1902. At that time the team was in the Junior League. Owing to its manager's great ability to get good players, the team has rapidly advanced, until now it is the best in the West, if not in the entire country. Klostermann was a half-back and played that position until three years ago. He was a good player, and is yet, but he has been able to get players so much better than himself that he thought it best to retire. He is a hustling business manager, and is ever on the lookout for the financial good of his team. He has the reputation of being the best manager in St. Louis.

Jimmy Donohue, outside right of the team, is one of the fastest men in the business. He is a good dribbler and can carry a ball good. He is a little weak on crossing to center, but is rapidly overcoming this fault. He is a good corner kicker and a hard worker. He joined the team in 1905, having played the season before with the Crocus Club.

William Tallmann, inside right, is the best man at that position in the West. He is a member of the celebrated Tallmann family of foot ball players of Coal City. He is the best of the family. He is a fast, clever lad and a nice shot at goal. He joined the team in 1908 and proved of great advantage to it. He is a heady player and has won more than one game with his wits.

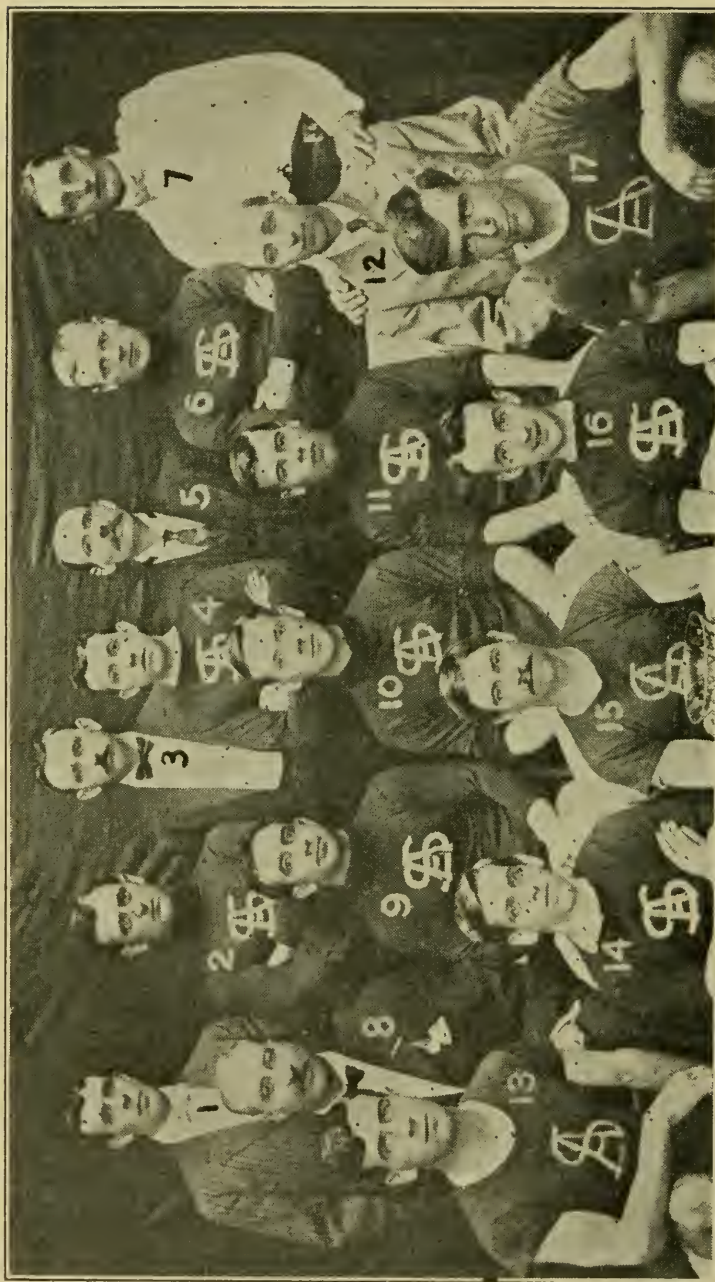

Chuck O'Berta, center forward, is a former Gillespie player. When Brannigan was injured O'Berta was secured to fill the vacancy. Chuck is a fine dribbler and passer. He is also good at taking passes and shooting at goal. He is rather adverse to rough play, but can play rough if need be. He won a great many games for the team by his quick thinking in tight places.

Richard (Bull) Brannigan, center forward of the team, is the pride of St. Louis soccerdom. He is a mere boy, being slightly over 19 years of age. He is a fast, aggressive player, with a great pair of feet. He can shoot hard with either foot, and can pass and take passes. He is good with his head and is dangerous on corner kicks. In 1908 he joined the team, advancing from the amateur ranks, having been captain of the C. B. C. eleven. By his great work during the last two years he has earned the uncontested title of best forward in the West.

J. Arthur (Butch) Ammons was, until his removal to Memphis, inside left of the team. Ammons was one of the best forwards in the West. A fast, aggressive player, with a great left leg, he was dangerous anywhere near the goal. He was a fast, clever dribbler, who could pass the majority of the backs. As a penalty kicker Ammons knew no equal. In ten years of play he missed but two shots of this kind, and one of these was the result of a practical joke. Ammons was secured by the Leos in 1908 from the St. Rose eleven. He was the only player to beat the team in 1907-08, and this led to his being secured the following year.

Joe Mason, substitute inside left, is a clever lad. He is a hard-working, aggressive player. He is a good shot at goal and a fine dribbler and passer. He more than held up his own when called on to fill Ammons' shoes. He was also used at center and inside right. He is an all-around player and can be used anywhere. He joined the team in 1904-05.

Dave Miller, outside left, is one of the fastest players in the game. He is a good dribbler and a player hard to stop. He is a good passer and corner kicker, though not a good shot at goal. He is a very unfortunate player, and injuries have handicapped him a great deal. He was picked up by Klostermann in 1906.

SCOTTISH-AMERICAN SOCCER FOOT BALL TEAM, NEWARK, N. J.

Champions of New Jersey, Winners of Clan McDonald Cup, 1909, 1910.

Joe Flynn, right half, is one of the veterans of the team. He first joined it in 1904. Though on the field he appears to be a lazy sort of player, he is one of the fastest, if not the fastest, playing the game in St. Louis. He is a clean player and a fine tackler. He is a hard man for a wing to pass, as he has a knack of hooking the ball with one foot while blocking the player with the rest of his body. He is a tireless worker, and can stand a good deal of hard play. He feeds his forwards nicely and follows them up in fine style.

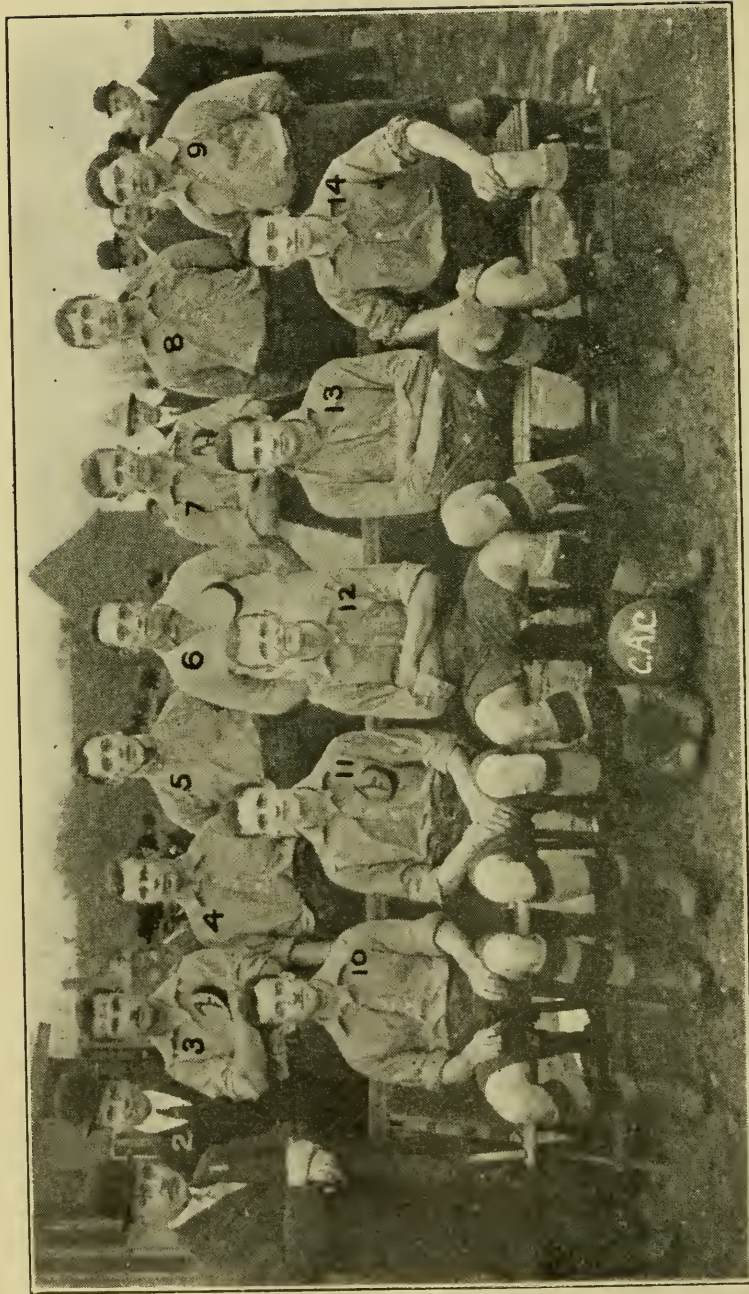

Gerald Shea, center half-back, has been with the team since 1906. He is a good offensive and defensive player. He is one of the cleverest players in the business. He does not like to exert himself, and so has given the game a great deal of study. He has learned so much about it that he can judge just where the ball will land after a certain play. Through this knowledge he has the ability to be in the right place at the right time. He feeds his forwards good and is hard to pass with the ball.

Peterson, half-back, is an aggressive player given very much to fouling. In this regard he excels all the others players in the league. In fifteen games he was guilty of twenty-two fouls. He is hard to pass with a ball and is a hard, tireless worker. He dogs a player to death and frequently gets the ball because he will not give up once he is passed. He is a player who can stand and give a great deal of rough usage. He joined the team the past season.

Johnny Miller, left half, is the real live wire of the team. He is by far the best half-back in the West, if not in the entire country. He is a speedy little lad with a fine boot and a good head. A great defensive player and a star on the attack. He follows his forwards in great style and keeps the ball up to them. He covers up on the defense in such a way as to be of the greatest help. He causes more players to kick over the touch-line than any other in the game. He joined the team in 1908 and has been its star ever since.

James Flynn, left full-back, was the sensation of the year. Jim had always been a forward, but when Abstein, the star full-back of the team, retired, Klostermann called on Flynn to play full-back. Jim was an instantaneous hit at his new position. He played a great game on defense. Where Jim was a little rough as a forward, in his new position he was not. Rarely did he even jostle a player, much less foul him. Yet he was hard to pass. He has a knack of taking the ball off a player's toe that is hard to beat. All good judges admit that he is the best in town at the position. He has been with the team since 1906.

sive player. He has a way of boring in on the player with the ball that either gets the ball or the player. In the majority of cases he gets the ball. He is rather wild at times, but is a tireless worker who can be relied upon to do his best at all times. He has been with the team four years.

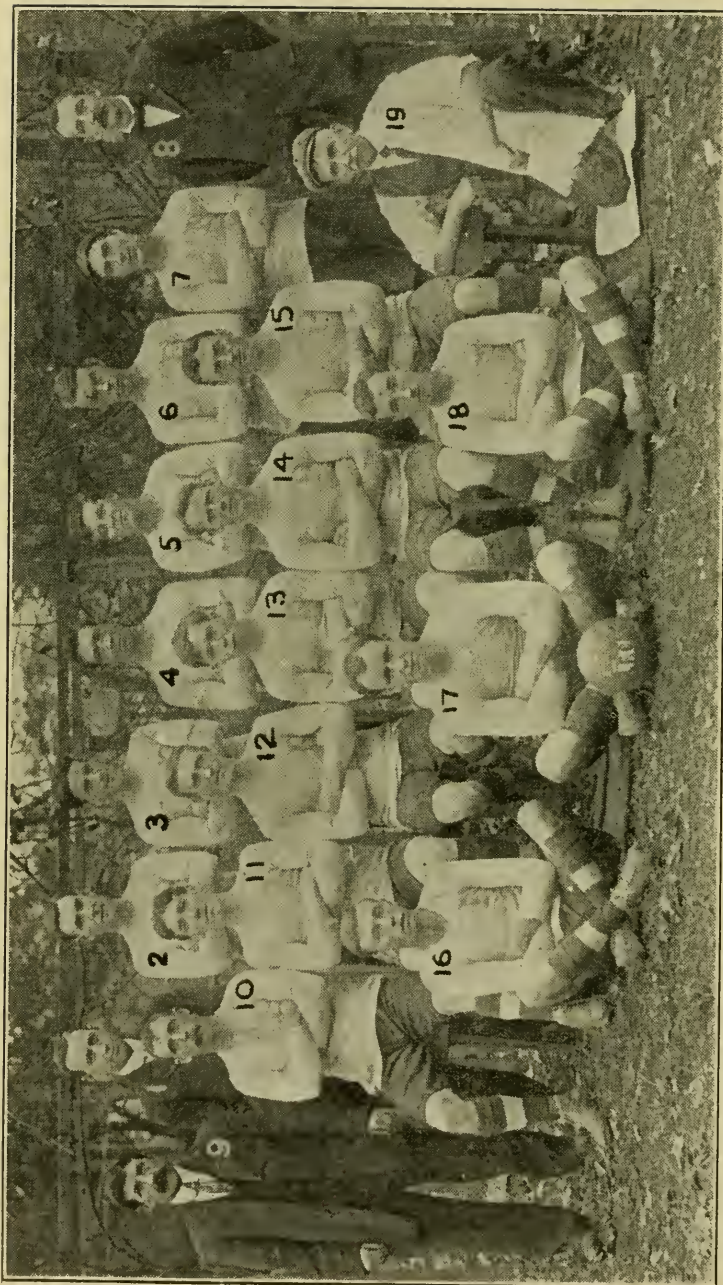

Hick January, substitute full-back, was a disappointment to the fans. In 1908 he was one of the best in the business, but last season, through lack of training, he fell off greatly in his work. He got into but two games, but lost one of these through a foul. He was picked up the past season from St. Teresas.

Jack Tully is a goal-tender for the eleven, and has been for the past five years. He is a good man on a high ball, though rather weak on low ones. He is a clever man and a cool one in the pinch. He never leaves his goal and can be relied on to give the best that is in him. He depends on his full-backs a little too much and requires a good pair to work with.

ST. TERESA FOOT BALL CLUB.

The St. Teresas, who finished second to the speedy St. Leos in the St. Louis Soccer League, was organized in 1907 by Lawrence Riley and members of the St. Teresa Young Men's Sodality. It was in the fall of that season that the team was brought together, and when the St. Louis soccer season opened at Athletic Park for the first time they were a member of the league. That season they finished third to the mighty Innisfail team and the St. Matthews. They put up a great fight for a team newly organized, and with a little luck might have finished higher. As it was, the showing the team made was mighty encouraging, and so, when the St. Louis season opened again the team was still a member, and now has a team that bids fair to make them all hustle. The league, though, was much stronger than the previous season, containing as it did the great St. Leos, champions of the Western States, and the best St. Teresas could do was to finish second to the Blue and White.

When the present season was organized the team was still a member of the St. Louis League and, as in the previous season, it run second to St. Leos after a great struggle. The team was much stronger than the previous year, but luck did not break with it or else things might have been different. Another thing that was a drawback to the team was the resigning of its mighty goal-tender, John (Duke) Sheahan, in the middle of the season. They lost three games in a row and were thus put so far behind the St. Leos that they were unable to catch up. Had they tied these games, as they should, or at least won one and tied one, they would have finished the year on even terms with the St. Leo outfit.

The team was the first of the big teams of the city to get started. They inaugurated the soccer season of 1909-10 on October 10 at Christian Brothers' Campus by defeating the college team, 7 to 2. This game was played for the purpose of putting the team in shape for the games with the Pilgrims of England, whom they met the following Sunday. The Pilgrims defeated them, 10 to 1. Then on October 30, playing under the name of the All-Westerns, they once again succumbed to the Pilgrims, 4 to 0. During the league season the team won 6 games, lost 4 and tied 5. They scored 25 goals and were scored on 18 times.

Aside from the Pilgrims and C. B. C. games, the St. Teresas took part in three other ante-season games. On November 7, the Sunday before the St. Louis season opened, they went down to defeat before the Blue Bells, whom they beat out in league competition, 1 to 0. On January 2, 1910, they met and crushed the Nationals of Cincinnati, 10 to 1. This game proclaimed the St. Teresas champions of Ohio and Indiana. Then, after the season closed, they met and lost to the St. Leos, 3 to 1. The team's record for the entire season was 8 victories, 8 defeats and 5 ties. It scored 44 goals and was scored on 39 times.

The team the past season was under the management of Philip Riley and the captaincy of Philip Kavanaugh. It contained some mighty fine players. Jimmy Hagerty, outside left, was the best in the city. He is a clever lad with a ball and a nice boy to carry it. He is good at corner kicking and passing, but a little off as a shot at goal. P. Young Axen, inside left, was the sensation of the season. He led the league at goal-getting and gives promise of developing into one of the finest forwards the game in this country has seen. Cairns, who was picked up to take the place of former Captain Devaney, was a star. He is a very clever man both on defense and offense, and knows just what to do in a pinch. Schmidt and Foley also played good ball at half, Willie being considered the next best man to Jimmy Miller in the league. Phil Kavanaugh, the captain and center forward, though a veteran, put up a nice game. He was a little slower than he was years ago, but managed to hold up his end as a goal-getter.

Duke Sheahan, goal-tender in the early part of the season, is the best in the country. He has not a weakness between the bars. He is good on high, low or any kind of shots and plays corners and penalties to perfection. When he resigned the team had great trouble in picking up a man to fill his shoes, and as a result lost two games they should not have lost. Finally T. McNamara, a forward, took his place and did great work. But he was selected a little too late.

The team was made up of the following players: Forwards, Smith, Devoy, Pete Ratican, Kavanaugh, McMahon, Sheehan, McNamara, Axen and Haggerty; half-backs, Foley, Schmidt, W. Ratican, Cairns and Devaney; full-backs, Dowling, Riordan and H. Jameson; goal-tenders, Sheahan, Barker, Wueger, Chew and T. McNamara.

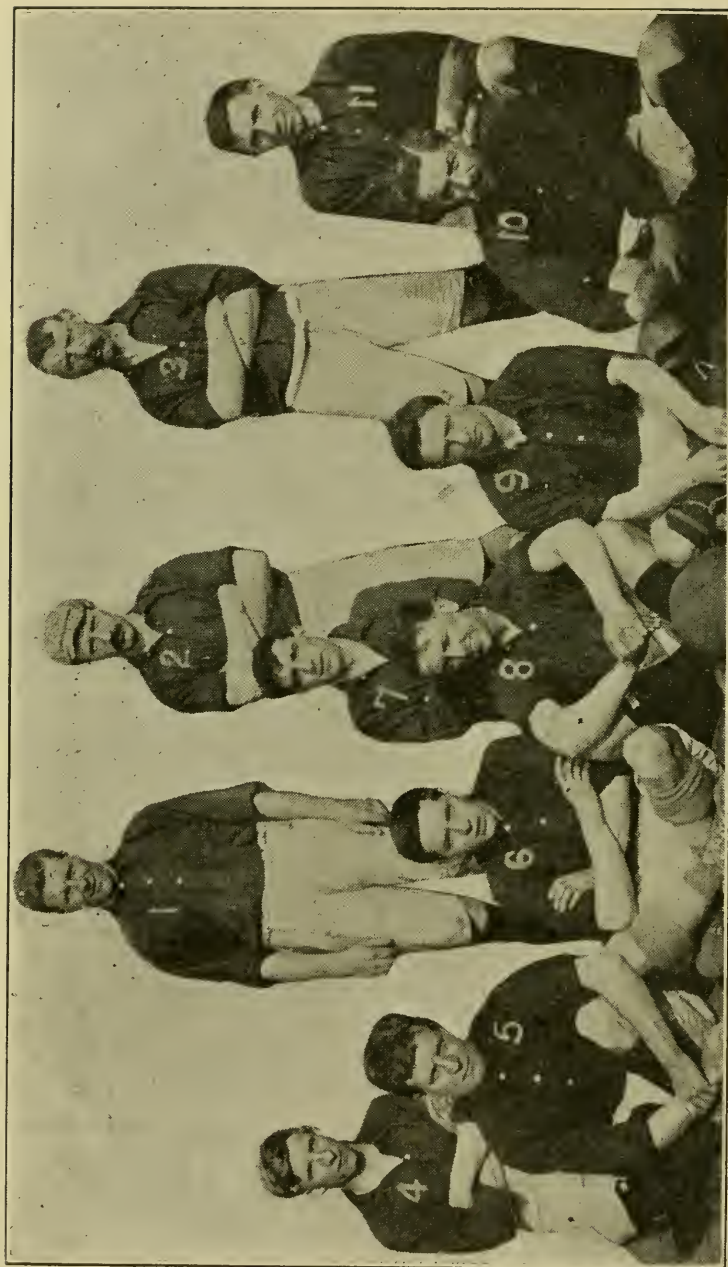

BLUE BELL FOOT BALL CLUB.

This team, which was the offspring of the old Thistle club, was the sensation of the St. Louis soccer season. Where the Thistle club had finished absolutely last for two seasons the new club got off to a running start, and for a while it looked as if it was going to win the flag. Finally, though, it slumped and landed third to the St. Leos and St. Teresas. It put up a great fight all season and should be a factor in the coming race.

It was owing to Peter Gunn, its clever manager, that the team showed such a great reversal of form. That wise soccer follower picked out the weak spots of his team of the previous year, and when the season of 1909-10 opened he put a team of young and old heads on the field that had them all going for a while. He added three new forwards and a goal-tender, and the changes so far improved the team that it was made a favorite for the flag, when last season it had been a tail-ender. Kennedy, his star goal-tender, was injured about six weeks before the close of the season, and though he hung on for a few weeks he had to finally quit. Captain Donald also was out part of the season with injuries, and this did not help the club any. Another source of disappointment to Gunn was the failure of his center forwards to come up to his expectations.

The team opened its season against the Pilgrims on October 16, and was beaten, 4 to 0, after a game struggle. Its next game was with the St. Teresas on November 7. This game they won, 1 to 0, after one of the prettiest contests of the season. On December 26 they were defeated by the Coal City team, 2 to 1. During league competition they won, lost and tied 5 games each. They scored 19 times and were scored on 17 times. On the season they scored 21 times and were scored on 23 times.

The team contained some mighty fine foot ball players. McCormick and McCaffery, two youngsters picked up by Gunn for his right forwards, are considered the makings of great foot ball players. Pete Harris and Wilson are also great half-backs,

Harris being the best man outside of Johnny Miller as an all-around half-back. Copley, left full-back, is a crackerjack. He has a great foot and is a fine man on defense. He is rather slow, but makes up for this by clever thinking.

Kennedy, the team's goal-tender, is also a good man. Next to Sheahan he is considered the best in the West. He is a cool man, good on most any kind of a shot and knows how to play individual players. He is fearless and will not get out of the way of any forward. He never leaves his goal unguarded and is always in the right place.

The team the past season contained the following players: McCormick, McCaffery, J. O'Berta, Essen, Little, Monohan, Peters and Adams, forwards; Wetherspoon, Harris, Wilson, J. Gunn and Dixon, half-backs; Donald, Reid and Copley, full-backs; Fulton and Kennedy, goal-tenders.

The prospects of the team for the coming season are brighter than ever. It will no doubt be in the same league, and should be in the running all year.

INNISFAIL FOOT BALL CLUB.

The Innisfail foot ball team, which took the place in the St. Louis League that was occupied by the West End the previous season, was as big a disappointment as the Blue Bells were a surprise. The West End team was a strong one on defense, and so when Manager Broderick and Owner Whalen picked up a bunch of forwards that looked to be the goods, they thought they had a winner. But the attackers failed to come up to their advance notices and so proved a source of much worry to the conductors of the team all season. Try as they might, they could not land on a suitable set of forwards until the season was too far gone to do much more than worry the leaders. This they did, and had the honor of being the only team to beat the St. Leos in the league competition. This game was the last of the season, and the score was 2 to 1. The winning goal came on a penalty kick in the last minute of play.

Though the team was weak on attack, it contained some star defense men. O'Brien, Vince Harris, Sauerbrun and Red Smith all played very clever games for the hapless outfit. On the attack the team had one star that shone out from among a mediocre set. This man was Soucher, who put up a game on the right wing that was not approached by any of the other men at that position. Palmer, in goal, played good and bad foot ball at times, but on the whole his game was not up to the high standard he had maintained in other years.

With a new set of forwards who can get some goals this team should make a winner. This strength Owner Whalen can be relied upon to add, for it pained him very much to have to carry a loser. In years past he has had some great teams, and it is his ambition to beat out the St. Leos before he gets out of the game. He has his eyes open for some coming stars, and when the season of 1910-11 opens he will put a team on the field that will take some tall beating. The hapless outfit of the past season was made up of Soucher, Haggerty, Coad, Dugguid, Murphy, High, McHugh, Finn, Clancy, Thompson and Heckwolf, forwards; W. Smith, McCarthy, Robertson and Sauerbrun, half-backs; O'Brien, V. Harris and Goecke, full-backs; Palmer, goal, and Broderick, manager.

BATTLE FOR THE CHAMPIONSHIP OF THE MIDDLE WEST.

ST. TERESAS OF ST. LOUIS, 10; NATIONALS OF CINCINNATI, 1.

On January 2, in St. Louis, at Athletic Park, Garrison Avenue and North Market Street, occurred the meeting of the Nationals of Cincinnati, champions of Ohio, Indiana and West Virginia, and the St. Teresas, at that time leaders in the St. Louis League. The Ohioians came to St. Louis with a continuous record of victories. The Pilgrims were the only team to beat them. On January 1 they met the All-Stars of St. Louis, but were beaten, 4 to 1. This was excused by the fact that the team had been traveling all night and the field was not in the best of condition. It was thought that the team would do better on the following day, when they met the St. Teresas. But they did not, as they were completely outclassed.

For the first fifteen minutes of play the game was fairly well contested, but after that period of time class began to tell. The great five forwards on the St. Teresas completely run over the backs of the Nationals and sent one goal in after another. St. Teresas' half-backs were impassable. Rarely, if ever, did the visitors get the ball past the middle of the field. On kick-off they lost the ball after the first kick. In the first half they got the ball over St. Teresas' touch-line just twice. At the end of the first half the score was 4 to 0. In the second half St. Teresas outclassed them even more than in the first, if that were possible. They toyed with the visitors' defense and shot goals as they pleased. The one goal the Cincinnati team got was given to them. Taking compassion on the visitors because of the game manner in which they fought, though they knew they were hopelessly beaten, McNamara of the Saints committed a foul on penalty area in such a manner that the referee could not help but see it. The goal was kicked past the great Sheahan, though that worthy might have stopped it had he chose so to do. The complete story of the game is shown by the following box score:

This league, which is the premier soccer organization of St. Louis, played its games at Athletic Park, Garrison Avenue and North Market Street. It possesses four of the fastest teams in the country, and its games are well attended. The past season upwards of 40,000 people watched the games of this league.

It is owing to the tireless work of President Dr. Alexander Murray and Secretary William Dooling that this league is such a success. These two hard-working officials left not a stone unturned to give St. Louis the best soccer obtainable. The result was they had the best league in the city's history. It was owing to Dooling's foresight and hustling that the Coal City and Nationals of Cincinnati were brought to St. Louis. Dooling, who lives at 1365 Blackstone Avenue, is one of the hardest working officials the game has ever had locally.

The Amateur League, which played its games at the Christian Brothers' College Campus, Easton and Academy Avenues, had one of the greatest races in the history of soccerdom. The flag was won on the last day of the year by the St. Teresa Juniors team, when little Tommy Dunn shot the lone tally in a game against C. B. C. Up to the time of this game it was possible for a three-cornered tie to result. Had the two leaders tied and St. Rose won, these three teams would have been tied. But Tommy Dunn upset all this with his boot. The St. Teresa Juniors team put up a great battle for the flag before they won it. The year before they were the winners of the junior league flag. When they applied for admittance to the big league they were turned down because they were too small. They had another team get in the league for them from their own parish, and then gradually added their old stars. This took time, and they only won out after a hard scrap. Six weeks from the end they were three games behind, but by playing great soccer they overcame and passed the leaders. They topped off their great race by defeating the Keen Cutters, winners of the St. Louis Association flag, 4 to 2, on March 20, in a battle for the city championship.

The Keen Kutter team made a runaway race of the St. Louis Association Football League race. The Knights of Father Mathew did lead the race for a few weeks, but it was not long before the K. K.'s passed them and finished so far ahead of them that there was nothing to the race. The Keen Kutter team was a fairly good one. It had good team-play and a nice defense. Mooney in goal was a tower of strength to the eleven. It failed greatly against the St. Teresas, though a much younger and lighter team, and lost, 4 to 2. It played three post-season games in addition to this game and won all three. On December 26 they beat Gillespie, 6 to 0; on February 27, Maryville, 4 to 0, and on March 6, Belleville, 2 to 1. Kulage Park, Newstead and Penrose, was the league's home.

The Carondelet League, which played at Mannion's Park, was a great success in spite of the bad weather. The games were hotly contested and well attended. The SS. Mary and Josephs won out from the Virginia Athletic Club team after a great race. The brand of foot ball was much faster in this league than it had been the previous year. The league will be in the field again the coming season with the winners and three other teams.

This league, which played at Kulage Park, Newstead and Penrose, on Sunday mornings, was a new venture. It was composed entirely of teams of boys. It was a great success. Some of the games were great to look at. The lads showed great improvement right along, and at the finish were playing a fine line of soccer. The Harrisons, who won the pennant, got off to a flying start, and though the C. B. & Q.'s gave them a great scrap, they finished on top. The other two teams did fairly well.

This league's games were played on C. B. C campus. It had a great little race. The St. Rose eleven won from the college team after a great scrap. The lads played good foot ball and are bound to be heard from higher up in a year or two. The kind of foot ball was very good and nice to look at. Several of the lads graduated to the bigger leagues before the season was over. All in all the lads' showing was impressive and speaks well for the future of soccer.

THE CITY SOCCER LEAGUE.

This league played its games at Second and President. It was composed of the Columbian Club, the Kinlochs, West Ends and Athletics. The C. A. C.'s won the flag after a fine fight with the Kinlochs. The other two teams played good foot ball, too. The games were all hotly contested and were well attended. The league on the whole was a great success. It will be in the field next season.

THE SODALITY LEAGUE.

This league played at Zimmermann's Park. It was composed of Perpetual Helps, St. Augustines, Holy Ghosts and Westerns. The first two completely outclassed the other two. The Perpetuals won after a hard battle. The other teams were used to fatten up on by the leaders. The St. Augustine team tried hard to win the flag, but Perpetuals won out.

PAROCHIAL SCHOOL LEAGUE.

This league was made up of two divisions. The first was won by St. Leos and St. Teresas won Class B. The two divisions had a nice brand of foot ball. St. Leos won from Rock Church after a great battle, while St. Teresas nosed out St. Mathews. The lads showed a great improvement over the previous year. The first division was made up of St. Leos, Rock Church, St. Roses and St. Bridgets. Division No. 2 was made up of St. Teresas, St. Mathews, St. Mark, Holy Rosary, St. Francis Xavier, St. Francis de Sales, Holy Name and St. Augustine.

ST. TERESA JUNIORS, AMATEUR CHAMPIONS OF THE MISSISSIPPI VALLEY.

The victory of the St. Teresa Juniors in the amateur competition was the biggest surprise of the year. This team of mere boys was not given even an outside chance to win the flag when they entered the league. In fact they were partly barred because of their size. They were considered too small to compete with the senior amateur. The team the previous year had won the Junior Amateur Championship and the season before had been runner-up for that honor. When they sought entrance to the Senior League many objected to them on the ground that they were too young and could not hope to compete with the larger players. The youngsters knew they had the class, and finally, thanks to some clever statesmanship on the part of their manager, Tobias Burke, finally found themselves in the league. Once they got in the league they went about to win the flag. This they did after one of the most heart-breaking struggles of local soccer history. Their opponents, the Christian Brothers' College team and the St. Roses, under the tutorship of Charles Byrnes, put up a battle that called out the best that was in the small St. Teresa outfit. The boys were equal to the occasion and won on the last day of the season by beating the college team 1 to 0. It was little Tommy Dunn, a mere child, that turned the trick for his team. Supported by the great defensive work of Shea, Ward, Zarchal, King, Holland and Sculley, the St. Teresa forwards during the last stages of the league battle were impossible to resist. An idea how fast this team finished can be obtained when one recalls that three weeks before the close of the season, it was two full games behind the leaders.

Not only did the boys succeed in winning the amateur title, but they triumphed over the Keen Cutters, winners of the St. Louis Association Football League flag. This game also brought out the gameness of the Red and Blue. The game took place on March 20, at C. B. C. campus. The Keen Cutters, who outweighed the St. Teresas twenty pounds to the man, got off to a flying start, scoring two goals before the young boys hit their stride. With the score against them the lads did not falter, though, and finally won out, 4 to 2. In addition to this the St. Teresas played two other friendly games, one of which they won and one they tied. The first game was a preliminary affair to the All-Star Cincinnati game on January 1. The score at the finish of the record game was St. Teresas, Jr.'s., 2; West Ends, 2. The next day the Kinloch Club of the South Side League went down before the speedy youngsters, 2 to 0.

The St. Teresa Juniors give promise of developing into one of the greatest, if not the greatest, team in the country's soccer history. As good judges of soccer as Benny Govier and Davis of the Chicago Tribune were of the opinion that the lads would be heard from in years to come. And they saw them two years ago when they were in the first stages of their development. The team is composed of lads from 16 to 18 years of age. They have a system of team play that is not equalled by any in the city. It has no individual stars, but a bunch of speedy lads that work together as one. The forwards are all good shots and tricky and clever with the ball. This attacking force revolves itself around Allie Walsh, center forward. Walsh is a good shot at goal, but knows how to use his wing men, Dunn and Collins. The inside forwards, Marree and O'Brien, are, like Walsh, good shots and clever on the pass and passing. As to the half-back line, it is the cream of the team. Tommy Shea, Jim Ward and Len Zarchal form a set of half-way men that it is next to impossible to pass. Every one of them has a good foot and knows how to block a forward as well as to feed his own. Not only are they clever on defense, but any of them is dangerous around the half-way mark with the ball. This trio has won more than one game with a well-directed shot at goal from near the center of the field. The full-backs, King and Holland, are the two best young men seen at that position in years. Both of them are big, strong, fast and clever youngsters. Hard to pass, though clean as a whistle. In years to come, it is said that this pair will be in a class by themselves. The goal-tender of the team, Sculley, is a very clever lad and should develop into a good man.

If Manager Burke had his way this team will graduate from the amateur ranks the coming season and will be seen in the St. Louis Soccer League. Be this as it may, it won't be long before the team is disputing with St. Leos and the Senior St. Teresa team the Championship of the Middle West.

KEEN KUTTERS, CHAMPIONS OF THE ASSOCIATION FOOT BALL LEAGUE.

The season of 1909-10 found the Triple A League winners of the previous year, the Keen Cutters, in the St. Louis Association Football League. As in the previous year, they won the pennant in their league without much trouble. This team, under the clever handling and wise management of Jack Barrett, its manager, developed into one of the best young teams in the city. True, they went down before the St. Teresa Juniors, 4 to 2, after they had the game apparently won, but the fate that was theirs will be the fate of many another strong team before many days go by. It is no reflection on the Keen Cutters that they were beaten by the Blue and Red outfit. They were handicapped by the loss of Gus Wamhoff, one of their stars, and in addition were bucking one of the most perfect systems of team-play in the West.

In league competition it was nothing but the Keen Cutters. The team got off a little slow, and for a few weeks trailed the Knights of Father Mathew, but once they hit their stride, it was all off for the other teams. In all the year they suffered but one defeat, and were tied but once. During this period they scored 23 goals and were scored on but 6 times.

On the Sunday after Christmas they defeated the strong Gillespie team, 6 goals to none, and after the season closed they won two games. The first of these was on February 27, when they beat Marysville 4 to 0. On March 6, they took Belleville into camp, 2 to 1. The St. Teresa game was the only black mark on the team record.

While the Keen Cutters contained many crack young players the team did not rely upon individual effort. Team-work was the keynote of Jack Barrett's system. So well was this manner of play developed that the team was enabled to overcome teams that were individually better than they. Mooney in goal was the star around whom this system was swung. He was a stone wall on defense for the team—at times it was next to impossible for him to be scored upon. He alone came near winning the St. Teresa game by his clever work between the bars. But when it came down to a thinking contest between he and Walsh of the amateur champs he was unable to triumph as he had done over the others of that team. So his team was beaten in spite of his hard work.

Soccer followers expect much of this team in years to come, as there are a lot of crack performers on the team, which is composed of Gus and Charles Wamhoff, Peters, Paterson and Eck, forwards; Byrnes, Hoffman and Smith, half-backs; Shea and Franke, full-backs, and Mooney, goal-tender.

CHRISTIAN BROTHERS' COLLEGE, THE HOME OF FOOT BALL IN THE WEST.

If there is any one institution that is worthy of praise for the rapid manner in which soccer has been brought to the front in the West in the past few years, that institution is the Christian Brothers' College. This school for boys and young men, which stands on a mighty tract of land extending from Kinghighway to Academy Avenue on Easton and Cote Brilliant Avenues, has done a lot for soccer. A few years ago when soccer lovers were trying desperately to have their beloved game introduced in some of the colleges of the West, the Brothers took the game in and gave it a warm welcome. This came about because Rugby, that terrible game of slaughter and broken limbs, had cost a life on the college campus the previous season.

Soccer made an instantaneous hit with the college boys. Youngsters that never knew they had the ability to play the game were induced to take it up and developed into star performers. The Brothers even went so far as to have members of their order transferred from England to St. Louis in order that the boys might obtain expert advice about the game. The labor bore fine fruit in the shape of many good players. The boys who learned the game on the college campus have since made the leading teams of the city. Many of them have taken the game to distant States and countries. In a great measure the Brothers succeeded in introducing the game firmly. For it has to, like all other games, find favor with the young boys in order to become permanent. Had it been restricted to men who had played in the old country, as it had been before the Brothers took it up, the game would not have made much headway. But thanks to their clever work, the game is now firmly established and is making greater strides every year. Now the Brothers have turned their hand at carrying the game to others. On April 27, 1910, the college team journeyed to Champaign, Ill., in order to give the Illinois University students a look at the game. As was to be expected, the Brothers' lads won, 9 to 2, without much trouble. They accomplished their purpose—that of showing the game to people who were prejudiced against it, and succeeded in making many converts. Illinois University will have a team the coming season and will in turn introduce the game to the rest of the teams of the Western Conference.

Thanks to the Brothers there are now three fine leagues playing games on the college campus—the Amateur, the Junior Amateur and the Parochial School League, the latter an organization restricted to boys of the different Catholic schools of the city. It is divided up into two sections and has done much to find favor for the game. In addition to this, the Brothers would like and are trying to have a Public School League formed. They are willing to let the lads have the use of their magnificent campus if they will only get together in the matter.

While the college has had these leagues going for a number of years now, the school has not been able to win a flag in either of them in the last three years. So it is not from a selfish motive that they were formed. It is the Brothers' wish to have the game played whether their teams win or not. Of course they would like to win, but they are out for the game, not themselves, and so have done more for their game than they would have done had they tried to corner all the honors themselves. Truly, soccer owes much to the Brothers of the Christian Brothers' College, at least in St. Louis.

St. Louis Soccer League Averages

COMPILED BY DAVID F. BARRETT.

All that the average soccer fan pays any attention to in the game is the number of goals scored and who scores them. He pays no attention whatsoever to the other fine points of the game. He fails to realize that fouls and off-side plays are just as detrimental to a team's play as goals are to its advantage. He does not take into consideration in passing on a goal-keeper's ability the number of times he was close pressed during the game.

Knowing that to eliminate foul play from foot ball fouls must be called to the attention of the rooters, and also to make players keep on-side, I decided to keep accurate record of every goal, foul, off-side play and every throw-in, corner kick and goal kick during each game. I ran a box score of the result similar to those used in base ball in my stories in the Republic. Opposite each player's name I printed the number of times he got a goal or fouled or was off-side. Also the number of corner kicks kicked off by the wings. As a summary, I had the number of goal kicks and throw-ins.

The following averages are the result of this. They show just what each and every player did in the many positions. I based them on ability to score goals. The goal-keeper averages are based on the number of times the goal was really closely pressed and the number of goals scored. In the team averages I took into consideration the number of times the team was forced to kick out.

In goal-getters the following players excelled in their respective positions: Outside right Frank Smith, 4 goals; inside right P. Ratican, 2 goals; center Jack O'Berta, 3 goals; inside left Axes, 6 goals; outside left Menehan, 4 goals.

All the outside rights in the league made 9 goals, committed 15 fouls, and were off-side 19 times; the inside rights scored 12 goals and were off-side 20 times and made 25 fouls; centers scored 17 goals, committed 37 fouls and were off-side 21 times; inside lefts turned 18 goals, committed 26 fouls and were off-side 21 times; outside lefts shot 9 goals, committed 8 fouls and were off-side 18 times. The other positions committed the following number of fouls: Right halves, 27; center halves, 31; left halves, 38; right fulls, 17, and left fulls, 6. The averages of the league are as follows:

The Detroit and District Association Foot Ball League

LAST SEASON'S STANDING.

	Played.	Won.	Drawn.	Lost.	Points.
All Scots	10	8	2	0	18
Detroit	10	8	1	1	17
Imperials	10	5	0	5	10
St. George	10	3	1	6	7
Britannias	10	2	0	8	4
West End	10	2	0	8	4

Since the beginning of this league in the fall of 1904, it has had many ups and downs, but in the late series of 1909, through the superior ruling of the President, Mr. C. H. Rosier, it has at last found a position second to none in the United States. This is easily explained. In 1904 only four team competed. In 1905 there was hardly any interest taken and the efforts were of little use, but in the following year it again appeared in the foot ball world with five teams to its credit. In the next year Mr. C. H. Rosier took hold of the reins, and since that time it has had nothing but success, and now, at the beginning of 1910, it has nine teams and about 350 signed players.

Last season was certainly a fine season, the teams competing showing that they had the best of players and sportsmanlike fellows in their ranks.

The All-Scots, a team that always proved dangerous in the league, won out, having played 10 games, won 8, drawn 2, lost 0—18 points.

The Detroit were second, having played 10 games, won 8, drawn 1, lost 1—17 points, which went to show that they are equally good. Then in third place came the champions of the spring, the Imperials, who, although in third place, can still be classed as a first-class team. At the end of the season, it being such a success, it was decided to hold an international game between England and Scotland, which was played in an enclosed ground in East Detroit, before some 2,000 people, the English team winning, 4 goals to 2.

The second game was between the Anglo-Scotch and the Irish, the Anglo-Scotch winning by 1 to 0, and the game proving to be a better success financially than the former. With this as a past, and more and more interest being taken by the public, it seems as if soccer is here to stay.

Junior Amateur Soccer Foot Ball League, Newark, N. J.

The Junior Amateur Soccer Foot Ball League of Newark, N. J., arranged a schedule of Saturday games, providing for the opening of the season September 17. The use of "field tags" of uniform size, showing the color of the home club, was decided upon.

Referees, each club furnishing a name, are assigned by the president. The officials have absolute power over the players and are instructed to squelch any attempt at rowdyism by expulsion from the game, even if the team is reduced to six men. As no man can be replaced in soccer this is a severe penalty. The schedule, with the name of the home club first, is as follows:

September 17—Elizabeth United vs. Eureka A.A., American Types vs. Marshall A.A., Nairn A.A. vs. Plainfield F.C., Thomas A.A. vs. Pomeroy Thistles.

September 24—Pomeroy Thistles vs. Elizabeth United, Plainfield F.C. vs. American Types, Marshall A.A. vs. Nairn A.A., Eureka A.A. vs. Thomas A.A.

Records of Prominent Teams

BROOKLYN ASSOCIATION FOOT BALL CLUB.

The Brooklyn Association Foot Ball Club, one of the leading soccer clubs in eastern foot ball, had another successful season. For the first time in their long career they joined the National League, in which they were the only amateur team, and at the end of the season were credited with third position, although, had they been able to complete their schedule (through which they were prevented by bad weather), they would in all probability have finished with the same number of points as Jersey A. C., who were second.

They were the only team to secure a point from the well-known West Hudsons, who again headed the League.

They also played in the New York State League, and were among the leaders for the first half of the season, but owing to sickness and accidents to various players, the strain of playing two league games every Sunday proved too great; consequently the State League team was unable to command their usual strength and fell away from a leading position.

The club was well served on the field by several of the old players, including Captain Dick Stuart (who unfortunately was put out of the game early in the season on account of a twisted knee); Acting Captain Maclellan, who played his usual game ('nuf said); Caldicott, again a tower of strength in defense, and Robert Milne, of whom the same remark applies. Goodman, Watts, Owen and Ike Williams also rendered useful service when required, not forgetting that popular player, Danny Mac-Niel, who had the misfortune to have his leg broken during the latter half of the season. The club has just sustained a serious loss by the death of Al Rydburg, one of the most popular and willing players ever enrolled on the club's books. The club was able to secure several valuable acquisitions to their playing ranks last season, notably Sammy Coward, one of the best inside men in the country, who scored more goals than any other player in the National League; Paul Oppermann, a hard-working and capable centre-half; H. O'Halloran, a very smart young forward, who followed Coward closely as a good scorer; W. Kirby, E. Van de Weghe, C. Nichols, A. Ross, W. Reitt, R. Armstrong and George Wolff all proved useful additions.

The officers had a strenuous season and handled the affairs of the club in a most satisfactory manner, the work of the Brothers J. E. and George Taylor as Secretary and Treasurer, respectively, being an outstanding feature. For the season of 1910-11 the officers are as follows:

Alfred Tyrill, President, who has been the backbone of the club for the last four years; J. J. Carboy, Vice-President; E. J. Atwood, Treasurer; A. Rothwell, Financial Secretary; Roby Armstrong, 132 Remsen Street, Brooklyn, Secretary, and W. H. Stiles, Manager, who still clings to his old love, and is keener than ever.

The club has again entered the principal competitions in both the National and State Associations.

The playing strength has been improved, and the patrons of the convenient Marquette Oval Ground, situated at Tenth Street and Second Avenue, Brooklyn, can rely on seeing the best class of soccer in the East.

INTER-STATE AMATEUR FOOT BALL LEAGUE.

The Inter-State Amateur Football League was organized in September, 1909, as a result of a meeting held at St. Bartholomew's Club, New York City. Albert F. Grimm was elected president, and D. E. Gallagher secretary and treasurer, their term of office expiring September, 1910. The league is affiliated with the American Football Association.

During the past season six clubs played a Sunday schedule and during the early spring the entire schedule was replayed. The clubs entered were: Clark A. A. and Celtic of Newark, N. J., Donegal and Hibernians of Brooklyn, and the Clan MacDuff and Reliance of New York.

Unfortunately, the Celtic and Clark A. A. teams were forced to withdraw, and the season was finished with the other four teams. Clan MacDuff and the Hibernians were very evenly matched, and played several ties, which were attended by several thousand spectators, and the skillful dribbling and passing of these teams compared very favorably with that of the leading teams of the local leagues.

The friendly co-operation of the American Football Association, and visits of Mr. Jones and Mr. Beveridge of that body to our monthly meetings encouraged us very much. Mr. J. Douglas, delegate of the Clark A. A., also rendered us valuable service. The prospects for the coming season are very good, new clubs having signified their intention of identifying themselves with this league.

The results last season of the games played showed Clan MacDuff first and the Hibernians second. Medals were awarded to the winners.

HUNGARIAN-AMERICAN ATHLETIC CLUB.

The Hungarian-American Athletic Club was organized in July, 1909, by a few followers of Association football, with the intention of eventually forming a good team. Within a very short time they had enough members to make four good teams, one of which will be considered as a league team.

Owing to the fact that it was too late to enter the New York State Amateur Football League for the season of 1909 they passed the season playing friendly and exhibition games. Among the New York teams, the Camerons and the Astoria football clubs played games with them, as also teams from the ocean liners.

Their grounds are located in Van Cortlandt Park, where followers of the team will see some good league games put up by them next season.

The officers of the club are: M. Schwartz, president; B. Basso, general manager; A. Chaab, treasurer, and N. Ecker, captain.

The best players during the season of 1909 were: B. Rieger, B. Fazekas, N. Ecker and G. Hayek. These men played in a number of international games some years ago in Hungary.

EUREKA A. A. SOCCER CLUB, KEARNY, N. J.

The Eureka Athletic Association Soccer Football Club of Kearny, N. J., the strongest junior team in North Jersey during the season of 1909-10, upheld their reputation of being a first-class team, and enjoyed the most successful season it has had since its organization, four years ago.

The Eurekas, although generally outweighed by their opponents, managed to put up a good game, because of their speed, endurance and team-work, and in most cases were returned the winners.

During the season the Eurekas played 24 games, of which they won 19, lost 2, and tied 3. They scored 104 goals to their opponents' 28.

BROOKLYN CENTRAL Y. M. C. A. SOCCER TEAM.

The Brooklyn Central Y. M. C. A. team was organized late in the Fall of 1909, and played their first game on Election Day with the Crescent A. C. at Bay Ridge, and notwithstanding the fact that a few of the men were playing the game for the first time, the Crescents defeated Central by the close score of 3 to 1. The next game was with Pratt Institute, and after a very close game Central won by 1 to 0. Central then played the Boys' Club and were defeated after a game fight by 3 to 2. Bensonhurst were their next opponents. This was a very hard contest, Central leading until a few minutes before time, when the Bensonhursts tied. Score—2 to 2.

Owing to inclement weather the team disbanded for two months, coming together on March 9 to play the Bensonhursts, and although playing a pressing game, the ball being almost continually in the opponents' territory, Bensonhurst, after running the full length of the field, tallied, thus defeating Central by 1 to 0. Central then lost to the strong Brooklyn Foot Ball Club, 3 to 0, and to the Clan Macdonald Strollers, 3 to 0. The Paterson Y. M. C. A. team came to Brooklyn on April 9, and after a very exciting game, Brooklyn Central won by the close score of 2 to 1.

When the team was organized, Mr. J. G. Barclay was elected manager and Mr. A. S. McLundie captain, and through the kind and able assistance of Mr. E. P. Roberts, the Associate Physical Director of the Branch, the soccer team was a success. Soccer enthusiasts joined the Association in order to play with the team.

It is the aim of Brooklyn Central to form a Y. M. C. A. League in Greater New York. We have sent letters to the various branches requesting them to form teams.

The soccer team held a meeting on April 21, 1910, and organized a permanent club. The officers for the season 1910-11 are as follows: President, J. L. Rintoul; vice-president, R. W. Harland; secretary-treasurer and manager, J. G. Barclay; captain, A. S. McLundie; vice-captain, J. Kerr.

PLAINFIELD ASSOCIATION FOOT BALL CLUB.

This club was formed in 1906 by a few foot ball enthusiasts and has now a membership of over seventy. During the early months of their activity they had the same troubles to contend with as any other team has who tries to promote soccer foot ball in a community where the game is not very well understood. However, their persistency has been rewarded, as a glance at the record of the past season will show.

This club does not forget the social side of life either, and a large number of social gatherings have been held by its members, which helps to draw them closer to one another.

The headquarters are at 951 South Second Street, Plainfield, N. J., where they have a very pleasant home, furnished with piano, billiard tables and other attractions. The rooms are open every day to members and friends.

The Eurekas of Newark were the hardest team they met during the entire season. The Plainfields played one drawn game and were defeated twice by them. The attendance at these games was the largest ever seen at a foot ball game in this city. The Plainfield's played 20 games, of which they won 12, drew 2 and lost 4.

The record for the season follows:

Sept.	4	—Plainfield, 2; Newark F. C., 1; at Plainfield.

When one looks over the history of college Rugby in our American colleges, noting its slow development, both as to the game itself and in popularity, one must feel astonished at the remarkable progress that soccer is making in the collegiate and scholastic world. Soccer is but in its infancy, but during the past year it has attracted to itself such great institutions as Chicago University, University of Illinois, Leland Stanford University and many others. The present hysterical attitude taken in some quarters against Rugby or college foot ball has had some effect in giving an official start to the soccer game in some quarters, but in the main the advances made by soccer have been due to the intrinsic merits of the game itself. Many colleges plan to take up the game the coming season, Wisconsin and State College being of these. Probably the most encouraging feature of the year's development has been that scores of schools in all sections of the country have taken up the game, some as an addition to their sports and others to replace the Rugby game. The cities of New York and Philadelphia lead in this respect, as the game is officially recognized and encouraged by their respective Boards of Education. Many of the Philadelphia private schools have also interested themselves in the game, such as the Episcopal Academy, Chestnut Hill Academy, and Haverford School, while the big schools are also making a beginning. Andover, Hill, Tome and others now have either class teams or school elevens. Once the game gets a foothold in the schools, its future as a college sport is doubly assured.

Indeed, it now has an assured future throughout the colleges. Columbia, Yale, Harvard, Haverford, Pennsylvania and Cornell compose the college league that is best known in the East. They finished last season in the order in which they are given below. For the second successive season, Columbia did not have a defeat scored against her. The Morningside players were almost the same as won the championship in 1909. Hardly a new player was seen in their line-up and the consequence was that they excelled all the other teams in the finer points of team play. Though they could not do better than tie Yale, their record during the season certainly entitles them to be given the premier position. No other college team can challenge their supremacy with the possible exception of the University of California eleven, and nothing but a match between the two could really settle the question. Columbia proved that her victories against the other college teams were not flukes by going through a fall season against the amateur teams in and around New York, and coming off with seven victories, one defeat and two ties.

Yale and Harvard seemed to be very evenly matched. Yale played the most consistent ball, losing but the game to Harvard in the intercollegiate season. A similar improvement in play and another year will see Yale topping the list at this sport. Harvard fell down before Columbia and Haverford, but in the eyes of the crimson cohorts the season was a great success, because of the victory over Yale.

Haverford was not up to her form of previous years, due mostly to a team composed of green players. In the Yale game, though defeated, they played the best ball of the season. In fact, good critics that saw this game gave it as their opinion that it was the fastest and most scientific game of soccer ever played by college teams in this country.

Pennsylvania had some good material, but they were given no encouragement and improved very little as the season advanced. Cornell also went through a disappointing season, though the games resulted in arousing great interest in the sport at Ithaca, and before the season was over 130 men were playing each afternoon. This means advancement in Cornell's game in the not distant future.

Springfield College and Princeton are the two best known institutions in the East having a regular eleven. The former have had soccer teams for many years, and they play a high class of ball. They had such a short season last year that a very real line cannot be gotten on their ability, but they must be given a very high place. They played Columbia, the Intercollegiate Champions, to a tie at 1 goal each, while they defeated the strong Harvard eleven by 4 goals to 0. In any general ranking of teams, Springfield must be near the front rank, Columbia alone leading them.

Though Princeton is not in the Intercollegiate League, they played through a schedule. The lack of encouragement is having its effect, as the defeat by Yale, 8 to 0, shows. If Princeton wants to develop this game they will have to take it up more seriously.

But there is no doubt that the standard of the game is improving rapidly in our colleges. With the many advantages they have of playing fields and regular practice, there is no reason why, in a very few more years, the college teams should not lead the amateur teams of the country. At the present time none of the college elevens are quite up to the form shown by such teams as the Crescents or Staten Islanders of New York or the Belmont eleven of Philadelphia.

No team in the country outdid Stanford for an initial season. The game took from the start, and, with the aid of a good coach, they got out a very creditable team. They defeated some fairly good teams, were beaten by California by only 1 goal to 0, and ended up the season by holding down the All-California team to 5 goals to 0.

The records of the colleges are given below, together with the standing of the teams in the Intercollegiate Soccer League.

Laws of the Game

1. The game should be played by eleven players on each side. The dimensions of the field of play shall be—maximum length, 130 yards; minimum length, 100 yards; maximum breadth, 100 yards; minimum breadth, 50 yards. The field of play shall be marked by boundary lines. The lines at each end are the goal lines, and the lines at the sides are the touch lines. The touch lines shall be drawn at right angles with the goal lines.* A flag with a staff not less than 5 feet high shall be placed at each corner. A half-way line shall be marked out across the field of play. The centre of the field of play shall be indicated by a suitable mark, and a circle with a 10 yards' radius shall be made round it. The goals shall be upright posts fixed on the goal lines, equidistant from the corner flag-staffs, 8 yards apart, with a bar across them 8 feet from the ground. The maximum width of the goal posts and the maximum depth of the cross-bar shall be 5 inches. Lines shall be marked 6 yards from each goal post at right angles to the goal lines for a distance of 6 yards, and these shall be connected with each other by a line parallel to the goal lines; the space within these lines shall be the goal area. Lines shall be marked 18 yards from each goal post at right angles to the goal lines for a distance of 18 yards, and these shall be connected with each other by a line parallel to the goal lines; the space within these lines shall be the penalty area. A suitable mark shall be made opposite the centre of each goal, 12 yards from the goal line; this shall be the penalty-kick mark. †The circumference of the ball shall not be less than 27 inches nor more than 28 inches. The outer casing of the ball must be of leather, ‡ and no material shall be used in the construction of the

* Decision of the International Board: The touch and goal lines must not be marked by a V-shaped rut.

† Decision of the International Board: Clubs may during the season 1910-11 mutually agree to use a ball other than the one with an outer casing of leather, provided this Law is otherwise complied with.

In International matches, the dimensions of the field of play shall be—maximum length, 120 yards; minimum length, 110 yards; maximum breadth, 80 yards; minimum breadth, 70 yards; and at the commencement of the game the weight of the ball shall be from 13 to 15 ounces.

2. The duration of the game shall be 90 minutes, unless otherwise mutually agreed upon. The winners of the toss shall have the option of kick-off or choice of goals. The game shall be commenced by a place-kick from the centre of the field of play in the direction of the opponents' goal line; the opponents shall not approach within 10 yards of the ball until it is kicked off, nor shall any player on either side pass the centre of the ground in the direction of his opponents' goal until the ball is kicked off.*

3. Ends shall only be changed at half-time. The interval at half-time shall not exceed five minutes, except by consent of the Referee. After a goal is scored the losing side shall kick off, and after the change of ends at half-time the ball shall be kicked off by the opposite side from that which originally did so; and always as provided in Law 2.

4. Except as otherwise provided by these laws, a goal shall be scored when the ball has passed between the goal posts under the bar, not being thrown, knocked on, nor carried by any player of the attacking side. If from any cause during the progress of the game the bar is displaced, the referee shall have power to award a goal if, in his opinion, the ball would have passed under the bar if it had not been displaced. The ball is in play if it rebounds from a goal post, cross-bar, or a corner flag-staff into the field of play. The ball is in play if it touches the referee or a linesman when in the field of play. The ball is out of play when it has crossed the goal line or touch line, either on the ground or in the air.†

The player throwing the ball must stand on the touch line facing the field of play, and shall throw the ball in over his head with both hands in any direction, and it shall be in play when thrown in. A goal shall not be scored from a throw-in, and the thrower shall not again play until the ball has been played by another player. This law is complied with if the player has any part of both feet on the line when he throws the ball in.

6. When a player plays the ball, or throws it in from touch, any player of the same side who at such moment of playing or throwing-in is nearer to his opponents' goal line, is out of play, and may not touch the ball himself, nor in any way whatever interfere with an opponent, or with the play, until the ball has been again played, unless there are at such moment of playing or throwing-in at least three of his opponents nearer their own goal line. A player is not out of play when the ball is kicked off from goal, when a corner kick is taken, when the ball has been last played by an opponent, or when he himself is within his own half of the field of play at the moment the ball is played or thrown in from touch by any player of the same side.*

7. When the ball is played behind the goal line by a player of the opposite side, it shall be kicked off by any one of the players behind whose goal line it went, within that half of the goal area nearest the point where the ball left the field of play; but, if played behind by any one of the side whose goal line it is, a player of the opposite side shall kick it from within 1 yard of the nearest corner flag-staff.† In either case an opponent shall not be allowed within 6 yards of the ball until it is kicked off.

8. The goalkeeper may within his own half of the field of play use his hands, but shall not carry the ball. The goalkeeper shall not be charged except when he is holding the ball, or obstructing an opponent, or when he has passed outside the goal area. The

* Decision of the International Board: A flag may be placed opposite the half-way line on each side of the field of play, but it must be at least 1 yard from the touch line, and must have a staff not less than 5 feet high.

† Decision of the International Board: The corner flag must not be removed when a corner-kick is taken.

goalkeeper may be changed during the game, but notice of such change must first be given to the referee.*

9. Neither tripping, kicking, nor jumping at a player shall be allowed. A player (the goalkeeper excepted) shall not intentionally handle the ball. A player shall not use his hands to hold or push an opponent. Charging is permissible, but it must not be violent or dangerous. A player shall not be charged from behind unless he is intentionally obstructing an opponent.† ‡

10. When a free kick has been awarded, the kicker's opponents shall not approach within 6 yards of the ball unless they are standing on their own goal line. The ball must at least be rolled over before it shall be considered played, i. e., it must make a complete circuit or travel the distance of its circumference. The kicker shall not play the ball a second time until it has been played by another player. The kick-off (except as provided by Law 2), corner-kick, and goal-kick shall be free kicks within the meaning of this law.

11. A goal may be scored from a free kick which is awarded because of any infringement of Law 9, but not from any other free kick.

12. A player shall not wear any nails, except such as have their heads driven in flush with the leather, or metal plates, or projections, or gutta-percha, on his boots or on his shin-guards. If bars or studs on the soles or heels of the boots are used, they shall not project more than half an inch, and shall have all their fastenings driven in flush with the leather. Bars shall be transverse and flat, not less than half an inch in width, and shall extend from side to side of the boot. Studs shall be round in plan, not less than half an inch in diameter, and in no case conical or pointed.§ Any player discovered infringing this law

* Decision of the International Board: If a goalkeeper has been changed without the referee being notified, and the new goalkeeper handles the ball within the penalty area, a penalty-kick must be awarded.

† Decision of the International Board: Cases of handling the ball and tripping, pushing, kicking, or holding an opponent and charging an opponent from behind, may so happen as to be considered unintentional and when this is so, no penalty must be awarded.

‡ Decision of the International Board: If a player turns so as to face his own goal when tackled, or is obviously aware that he is about to be tackled by an opponent, he is intentionally obstructing, and may be charged from behind.

§ Decision of the International Board: Wearing soft india-rubber on the soles of boots is not a violation of this law.

shall be prohibited from taking further part in the match. The referee shall, if required, examine the players' boots before the commencement of a match, or during the interval.

13. A referee shall be appointed whose duties shall be to enforce the Laws and decide all disputed points; and his decision on points of fact connected with the play shall be final. He shall also keep a record of the game, and act as timekeeper. In the event of any ungentlemanly behavior on the part of any of the players, the offender or offenders shall be cautioned, and if any further offence is committed, or in case of violent conduct, without any previous caution, the referee shall order the offending player or players off the field of play, and shall transmit the name or names of such player or players to his or their National Association, who shall deal with the matter.* The referee shall allow for time wasted, lost through accident, or other cause, suspend or terminate the game whenever by reason of darkness, interference by spectators, or other cause, he may deem necessary; but in all cases in which a game is so terminated, he shall report the same to the Association under whose jurisdiction the game was played, who shall deal with the matter.† The referee shall award a free kick in any case in which he thinks the conduct of a player dangerous, or likely to prove dangerous, but not sufficiently so as to justify him in putting in force the greater powers vested in him. The power of the referee extends to offences committed when the play has been temporarily suspended, and when the ball is out of play.

14. Two linesmen shall be appointed, whose duty (subject to the decision of the referee) shall be to decide when the ball is out of play, and which side is entitled to the corner-kick, goal-kick, or throw-in; and to assist the referee in carrying out the game in accordance with the laws.* In the event of any undue interference or improper conduct by a linesman, the referee shall have power to order him off the field of play and appoint a substitute, and report the circumstances to the National Association having jurisdiction over him, who shall deal with the matter.

* Decision of the International Board: That persistent infringement of any of the laws of the game is ungentlemanly conduct within the meaning of this law.

† Decision of the International Board: "All reports by referees to be made within three days after the occurrence (Sundays not included), and reports will be deemed to be made when received in the ordinary course of post."

15. In the event of a supposed infringement of the laws, the ball shall be in play until a decision has been given.

16. In the event of any temporary suspension of play from any cause, the ball not having gone into touch or behind the goal-line, the referee shall throw the ball down where it was when play was suspended, and the ball shall be in play when it has touched the ground. If the ball goes into touch or behind the goal line before it is played by a player, the referee shall again throw it down. The players on either side shall not play the ball until it has touched the ground.

17. In the event of any infringement of Laws 5, 6, 8, 10, or 16, or of a player being sent off the field under Law 13, a free kick shall be awarded to the opposite side, from the place where the infringement occurred. In the event of any intentional infringement of Law 9 outside the penalty area, or by the attacking side within the penalty area, a free kick shall be awarded to the opposite side from the place where the infringement occurred. In the event of any intentional infringement of Law 9 by the defending side within the penalty area the referee shall award the opponents a penalty kick,† which shall be taken from the penalty kick mark under the following conditions: "All players, with the exception of the player taking the penalty kick and the opponents' goalkeeper, shall be outside the penalty area. The opponents' goalkeeper shall not advance beyond his goal line. The ball must be kicked forward. The ball shall be in play when

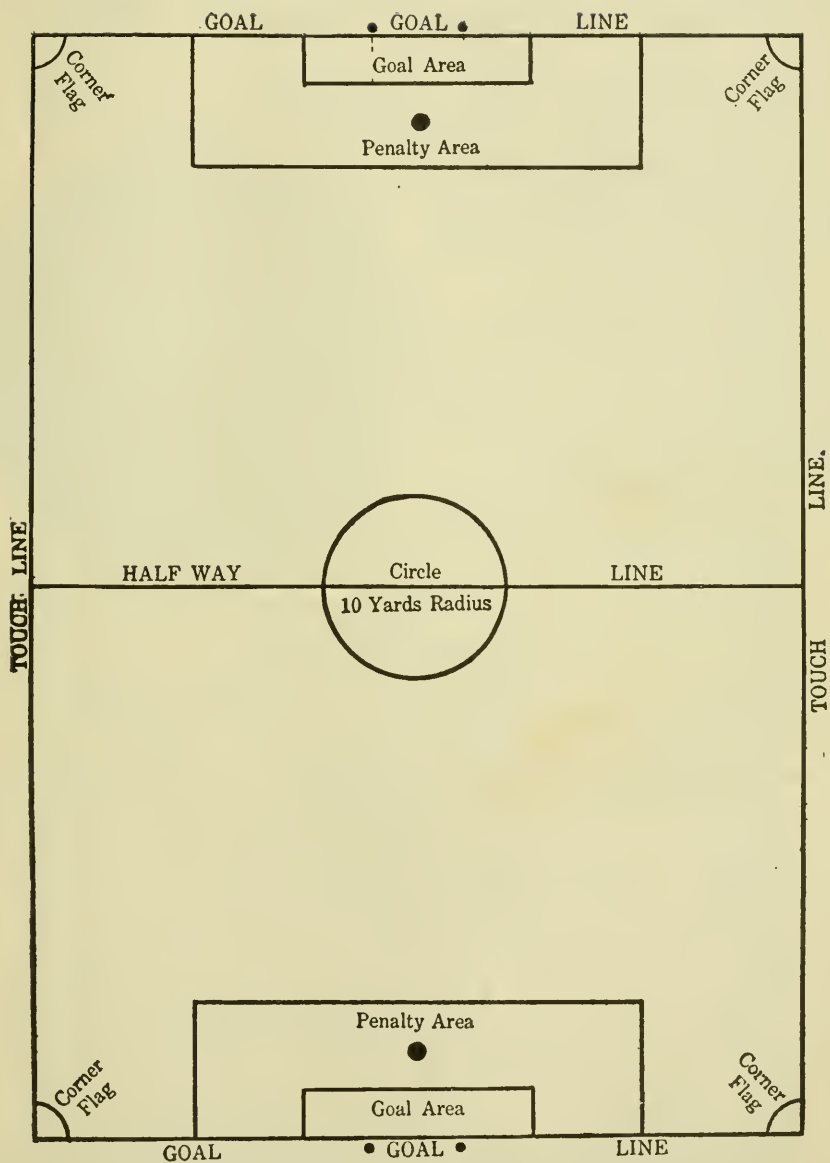

* Decision of the International Board: Linesmen, where neutral, should call the attention of the referee to rough play or ungentlemanly conduct, and generally assist him to carry out the game in a proper manner.

† Decision of the International Board: A penalty kick can be awarded irrespective of the position of the ball at the time the offense is committed. In the event of the ball touching the goalkeeper before passing between the posts, when a penalty kick is being taken at the expiry of time, a goal is scored.

the kick is taken, and a goal may be scored from a penalty kick; but the ball shall not be again played by the kicker until it has been played by another player. If necessary, time of play shall be extended to admit of the penalty kick being taken. A free kick shall also be awarded to the opposite side if the ball is not kicked forward, or is played a second time by the player who takes the penalty kick until it has been played by another player. The referee may refrain from putting the provisions of this law into effect in cases where he is satisfied that by enforcing them he would be given an advantage to the offending side. If when a penalty kick is taken the ball passes between the goal-posts under the bar the goal shall not be nullified by reason of any infringement by the defending side.

Dear Sirs: I wish to thank you for the ball you sent me on Saturday and which we used in the International Soccer Match (Pilgrims of England vs. All New York) at Staten Island Cricket Club Grounds, Saturday, October 2d. It gave perfect satisfaction and held its shape well. I trust you will have great success in your sales. I feel sure clubs cannot do better than buy this ball. Yours very truly,

HARRY MANLEY,

Chairman Staten Island Foot Ball Club,
President New York State Foot Ball Association.

Chicago, October 23, 1909.

Messrs. A. G. SPALDING & BROS.,
147 Wabash Avenue, Chicago, Illinois.

Gentlemen: We have used your Official Association Foot Ball for our games played in the United States, and have found this ball to be perfectly satisfactory in every respect. Yours truly,

FRED H. MILNES,

Captain-Manager "Pilgrims" Foot Ball Club, England.

WE GUARANTEE every Spalding Foot Ball to be perfect in material and workmanship and correct in shape and size when inspected at our factory. If any defect is discovered during the first game in which it is used, or during the first day's practice use, and if returned at once, we will replace same under this guarantee. We do not guarantee against ordinary wear nor against defect in shape or size that is not discovered immediately after the first day's use. Owing to the superb quality of every Spalding Foot Ball, our customers have grown to expect a season's use of one ball, and at times make unreasonable claims under our guarantee, which we will not allow.

Spalding Vaulting Poles—Selected Spruce, Solid

The greatest care has been exercised in making these poles. In selecting the spruce only the most perfect and thoroughly seasoned pieces have been used. All of this goes to make them what we claim they are, the only poles really fit and safe for an athlete to use.

No. 103. 14 ft long. Ea., $6.00 No. 104. 16 ft. long. Ea., $7.00

We guarantee all of our wood vaulting poles to be perfect in material and workmanship, but we do not guarantee against breaks while in use, as we have found in our experience that they are usually caused by improper use or abuse.

Spalding Bamboo Vaulting Poles

Owing to differences in climatic conditions it is impossible to keep Bamboo Vaulting Poles from cracking. These cracks or season checks do not appreciably detract from the merits of the poles, although they may be wide open and extend through several sections on one side. All of our tests would seem to prove that poles with season checks may be accepted as sale and durable. Very frequently such splits or season checks can be entirely closed by placing the pole in a damp place for a day or so.

SPALDING CRICKET BAT

Spalding prices are net and will be found much lower than quotations made by others on so-called first grade goods, even when figured with a large discount off.

The Hayward "Century"

amines every bat, and each one is stamped with his signature.

The Blades of these bats are made from the best willow procurable, and are well seasoned. They are clear, straight grain, well wooded in the right place, and perfect in shape and balance.

The Handles are made from the best cane, specially compressed with three strips of pure Para rubber running through them, which gives the bat excellent spring and great driving power.

"This is the bat with which I made 136 and 130 for Australia vs. England, at Kennington Oval, August 9, 10, 11, 1909. WARREN BARDSLEY."

"I have also made the following scores with a Spalding Bat: 63, 76, 63 (not out), 219, 108, 118, 211."

PERSONAL SELECTION

Many players like to go over a stock of bats until they find one that just suits them in weight and balance. This may be done at any Spalding store, the large assortment which we carry at all times in stock making it possible for us to suit exactly in every case. An extra charge will be made for this special service.

All Spalding Cricket Bats are uniform in finish and quality of material in each grade. "Personal Selection" refers simply to weight and balance, our bats being made in a great variety of weights, in which the balance also varies.

The Spalding Disk Platform

Home Apparatus

"Many forms of exercise are indulged in by folk desirous of improving their physical condition, but none of them is more attractive and at the same time more beneficial than bag punching. Arms, shoulders, hands, wrist, the neck and legs are brought into play individually and in combination in bag punching. Aside from the development in these parts of the body, the shoulders are made square and upright, the chest is broadened, the eye quickened and the brain stimulated. The direct result is a new being for the bag puncher."—Extract from Spalding's Athletic Library, No. 191, "Bag Punching."

Bag is NOT Included with this Platform

Can be put up in a very small space and taken down quickly when not in use by simply detaching the pipe fixture from the wall plate.

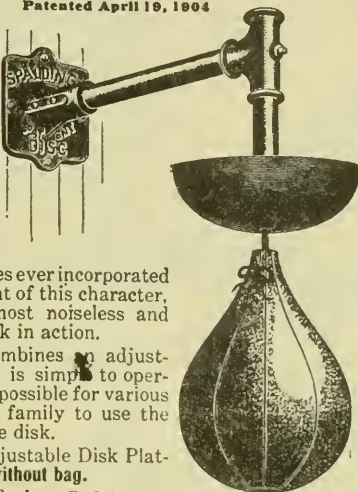

Patented April 19, 1904

The metal disk against which the bag strikes constitutes one of the best features ever incorporated in an arrangement of this character, rendering it almost noiseless and very quick in action.

This disk also combines an adjustable feature that is simple to operate and makes it possible for various members of the family to use the same disk.

The Moline Striking Bag Platform

OUR MOLINE PLATFORM is adjustable in height, readily attached to any wall, and the side brackets so arranged that it touches three rows of studding. Neat in design and handsomely finished, it in no way detracts from the appearance of the room, does not obstruct the light, and overcomes many other objectionable features of the old style disk usually costing double the price. Each platform supplied with everything necessary for attaching to wall, and crated ready for shipment.

PATENTED FEB. 18, 1896

No 1. Moline Platform.
$12.00

Bag is not included in

Home Apparatus

BAG Punching is really a fascinating diversion capable of so many combinations, that it is interesting alike to the young boy and the seasoned athlete. When its healthful advantages are considered it is remarkable that there are not more bags in use, especially where there are boys and girls who would not otherwise take sufficient exercise to keep them in good physical condition. The same is true of many business men who really could use a punching bag with benefit and very conveniently, where in many cases sufficient outdoor exercise is simply impossible.

Spalding Adjustable Floor Disk

This style is what is generally called a "Floor Disk," because the heavy japanred pipe uprights and the steel guys are attached to the floor, but this one is superior to any similar style now on the market in that it combines with absolute rigidity the adjustable features so necessary in an article that is for home use to make it suitable for various members of the family. Capable of three adjustments of two inches each or a total of six inches.

Floor space required:
9 ft. by 6 ft.; height, 7 ft.

SANDOW'S

AN entire system of Physical Culture is embraced within the exercises possible with these wonderful dumb bells.

The bells are made in two halves connected by steel springs, the effort necessary in gripping compelling the pupil to continually devote his whole mind to each movement. This concentration of will power on each muscle involved is what is responsible for the great results obtained through properly exercising with them.

Spalding Exercising Equipment for Recreation Rooms

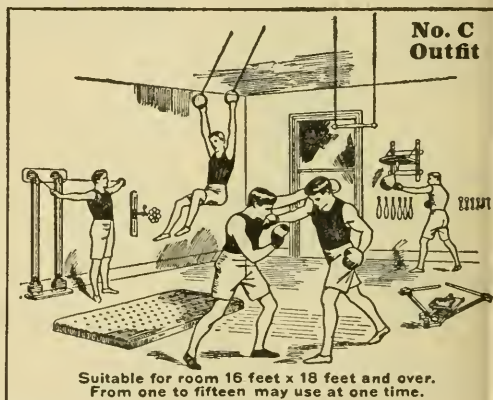

Exercising apparatus, suitable for home use, and not altogether by the boys and girls of the household, but also by the grown-ups; as a matter of fact, the ones who usually require exercise of a rational kind much more than the younger generation, who have the time and inclination for outdoor exercise not possessed by many of their elders—that is what we will attempt to show in this section of our catalogue.

Using Spalding Home Exercising Apparatus, Chest Weights, etc., properly, and in connection with the instructions given in our various Athletic Libraries there is no reason why any man cannot practically renew his youthful vigor by regular exercise.

Many banking, mercantile and manufacturing establishments maintain athletic clubs of their employees and have installed Spalding Outfits of Gymnasium Apparatus in their club and recreation rooms for their use. The suggested combinations shown on these pages, illustrate only a few of the sets of exercising apparatus which may be made up from the goods listed in this catalogue.

Spalding Exercising Equipment for Small Athletic Clubs

What are to-day the largest, most prominent and most influential athletic clubs and associations in this country started from small groups of young men banded together originally as base ball, rowing or swimming clubs, and who, with the idea of retaining their organization during the entire year, commenced in a small way and in modest quarters to build up a regular athletic organization covering a number of athletic sports. With the idea of interesting small athletic clubs, we show on this page two medium-priced outfits of gymnasium apparatus suitable for small club rooms. We do not recommend these outfits to clubs with a large membership, or to those who are in shape to have a regular gymnasium in a complete club house. For such organizations, also for schools, colleges and other institutions, we maintain a special contract department, with staff of experts who will gladly give full information regarding the complete line of Spalding Gymnasium Equipment for regular Indoor or Outdoor Playground use. We issue special catalogues showing apparatus that we supply on contract equipment, and copies will be sent to interested parties on application to A. G. Spalding & Bros., Inc., Chicopee, Mass., Gymnasium Contract Department.

Schoolyard Athletics

By J. E. SULLIVAN

President Amateur Athletic Union;
Member Board of Education Greater New York.

THE great interest in athletics that has developed in the public schools within recent years has led to the compilation of this book with a view to the systemization of the various events that form the distinctively athletic feature of school recreation. With its aid any teacher should be able to conduct a successful meet, while the directions given for becoming expert in the various lines will appeal to the pupil. Some of the leading athletes have contributed chapters on their specialties: Ray Ewry, holder of the world's high jump record, tells how to practice for that event; Harry Hillman, holder of the hurdle and three-legged records, gives hints on hurdle racing and three-legged racing; Martin Sheridan, all-around champion of America, gives directions for putting the shot; Harry F. Porter, high jump expert, describes how to become proficient in that event. The book is illustrated with photos taken especially for it in public school yards.

Durand-Steel Lockers

Wooden lockers are objectionable, because they attract vermin, absorb odors, can be easily broken into, and are dangerous on account of fire.

Lockers made from wire mesh or expanded metal afford little security, as they can be easily entered with wire cutters. Clothes placed in them become covered with dust, and the lockers themselves present a poor appearance, resembling animal cages.

Durand-Steel Lockers are made of finest grade furniture steel and are finished with gloss black, furnace-baked japan (400°), comparable to that used on hospital ware, which will never flake off nor require refinishing, as do paints and enamels.

Some of the 6,000 Durand-Steel Lockers Installed in the Public Cymnasiums of Chicago. 12'x 15'x 42", Double Tier.

Durand-Steel Lockers are usually built with doors perforated full length in panel design with sides and backs solid. This prevents clothes in one locker from coming in contact with wet garments in adjoining lockers, while plenty of ventilation is secured by having the door perforated its entire length, but, if the purchaser prefers, we perforate the backs also.

The cost of Durand-Steel Lockers is no more than that of first-class wooden lockers, and they last as long as the building, are sanitary, secure, and, in addition, are fire-proof.

THE FOLLOWING STANDARD SIZES ARE THOSE MOST COMMONLY USED:

DOUBLE TIER	SINGLE TIER
12 x 12 x 36 Inch	12 x 12 x 60 Inch
15 x 15 x 36 Inch	15 x 15 x 60 Inch
12 x 12 x 42 Inch	12 x 12 x 72 Inch
15 x 15 x 42 Inch	15 x 15 x 72 Inch

SPECIAL SIZES MADE TO ORDER.

We are handling lockers as a special contract business, and shipment will in every case be made direct from the factory in Chicago. If you will let us know the number of lockers, size and arrangement, we shall be glad to take up, through correspondence, the matter of prices.

Standard Policy

A Standard Quality must be inseparably linked to a Standard Policy.

Without a definite and Standard Mercantile Policy, it is impossible for a manufacturer to long maintain a Standard Quality.

To market his goods through the jobber, a manufacturer must provide a profit for the jobber as well as the retail dealer. To meet these conditions of Dual Profits, the manufacturer is obliged to set a proportionately high list price on his goods to the consumer.

To enable the glib salesman, when booking his orders, to figure out attractive profits to both the jobber and retailer, these high list prices are absolutely essential; but their real purpose will have been served when the manufacturer has secured his order from the jobber, and the jobber has secured his order from the retailer.

However, these deceptive high list prices are not fair to the consumer, who does not, and, in reality, is not even expected to pay these fancy list prices.

When the season opens for the sale of such goods, with their misleading but alluring high list prices, the retailer begins to realize his responsibilities, and grapples with the situation as best he can, by offering "special discounts," which vary with local trade conditions.

Under this system of merchandising, the profits to both the manufacturer and the jobber are assured; but as there is no stability maintained in the prices to the consumer, the keen competition amongst the local dealers invariably leads to a demoralized cutting of prices by which the profits of the retailer are practically eliminated.

This demoralization always reacts on the manufacturer. The jobber insists on lower, and still lower, prices. The manufacturer, in his turn, meets this demand for the lowering of prices by the only way open to him, viz.: the cheapening and degrading of the quality of his product.

The foregoing conditions became so intolerable that, ten years ago, in 1899, A. G. Spalding & Bros. determined to rectify this demoralization in the Athletic Goods Trade, and inaugurated what has since become known as "The Spalding Policy."

The "Spalding Policy" eliminates the jobber entirely, so far as Spalding Goods are concerned, and the retail dealer secures his supply of Spalding Athletic Goods direct from the manufacturer under a restricted retail price arrangement by which the retail dealer is assured a fair, legitimate and certain profit on all Spalding Athletic Goods, and the consumer is assured a Standard Quality and is protected from imposition.

The "Spalding Policy" is decidedly for the interest and protection of the users of Athletic Goods, and acts in two ways:

FIRST—The user is assured of genuine Official Standard Athletic Goods, and the same fixed prices to everybody.

SECOND—As manufacturers, we can proceed with confidence in purchasing at the proper time, the very best raw materials required in the manufacture of our various goods, well ahead of their respective seasons, and this enables us to provide the necessary quantity and absolutely maintain the Spalding Standard of Quality.

All retail dealers handling Spalding Athletic Goods are required to supply consumers at our regular printed catalogue prices—neither more nor less—the same prices that similar goods are sold for in our New York, Chicago and other stores.

All Spalding dealers, as well as users of Spalding Athletic Goods, are treated exactly alike, and no special rebates or discriminations are allowed to anyone.

Positively, nobody; not even officers, managers, salesmen or other employes of A. G. Spalding & Bros., or any of their relatives or personal friends, can buy Spalding Athletic Goods at a discount from the regular catalogue prices.

This, briefly, is the "Spalding Policy," which has already been in successful operation for the past ten years, and will be indefinitely continued.

In other words, "The Spalding Policy" is a "square deal" for everybody.

Standard Quality

An article that is universally given the appellation "Standard" is thereby conceded to be the Criterion, to which are compared all other things of a similar nature. For instance, the Gold Dollar of the United States is the Standard unit of currency, because it must legally contain a specific proportion of pure gold, and the fact of its being Genuine is guaranteed by the Government Stamp thereon. As a protection to the users of this currency against counterfeiting and other tricks, considerable money is expended in maintaining a Secret Service Bureau of Experts. Under the law, citizen manufacturers must depend to a great extent upon Trade-Marks and similar devices to protect themselves against counterfeit products—without the aid of "Government Detectives" or "Public Opinion" to assist them.

Consequently the "Consumer's Protection" against misrepresentation and "inferior quality" rests entirely upon the integrity and responsibility of the "Manufacturer."

A. G. Spalding & Bros. have, by their rigorous attention to "Quality," for thirty-three years, caused their Trade-Mark to become known throughout the world as a Guarantee of Quality as dependable in their field as the U. S. Currency is in its field.

The necessity of upholding the guarantee of the Spalding Trade-Mark and maintaining the Standard Quality of their Athletic Goods, is, therefore, as obvious as is the necessity of the Government in maintaining a Standard Currency.

Thus each consumer is not only insuring himself but also protecting other consumers when he assists a Reliable Manufacturer in upholding his Trade-Mark and all that it stands for. Therefore, we urge all users of our Athletic Goods to assist us in maintaining the Spalding Standard of Excellence, by insisting that our Trade-Mark be plainly stamped on all athletic goods which they buy, because without this precaution our best efforts towards maintaining Standard Quality and preventing fraudulent substitution will be ineffectual.

Manufacturers of Standard Articles invariably suffer the reputation of being high-priced, and this sentiment is fostered and emphasized by makers of "inferior goods," with whom low prices are the main consideration.

A manufacturer of recognized Standard Goods, with a reputation to uphold and a guarantee to protect, must necessarily have higher prices than a manufacturer of cheap goods, whose idea of and basis for a claim for Standard Quality depends principally upon the eloquence of the salesman.

We know from experience that there is no quicksand more unstable than poverty in quality—and we avoid this quicksand by Standard Quality.
